RELIGION MAY BECOME "EXTINCT?"

On March 22, bbc.com released a story that has set the blogosphere abuzz. The headline reads: "Religion may become extinct in nine nations, study says" (<http://www.bbc.co.uk/news/science-environment-12811197>). Before examining that list of nine countries, here's the logic behind that conclusion.

The American Physical Society (APS), meeting in Dallas recently, released research based on non-linear dynamics, a mathematical model used to analyze data. Examining religious affiliation census data extending back a century for numerous countries, and then correlating that data with known social motives behind being religious or not, the APS concluded that for these nine nations the trends indicate that eventually social motivation for

UNITED PRAYER

Monday to Thursday

12:30-1:00 PM // PMC Sanctuary

WANTED IMMEDIATELY: A BRIDE

I've often marveled at the way God answered Eliezer's prayer when he was seeking a bride for Isaac. Two things are worth noting about God's response: (1) the specific nature and (2) the immediacy of the answer. While Eliezer was STILL praying God IMMEDIATELY brought Rebekah, who would prove to be the perfect bride for Isaac—that was a fast specific answer to prayer. I am grateful God is both willing and able to answer our prayers.

Do you wish God answered your prayers as specifically and quickly? I think He wants to! But I don't think most of us are prepared to receive specific quick answers, at least for such an important area of life. To receive such specific quick answers require a profound confidence in God. Most people would consider making such an important decision so quickly an act of unparalleled stupidity.

Recall that Eliezer was seeking a wife for Isaac. He went with specific instructions as to where she was to be found, and how she was to respond. Failure in either case would free him from his quest. He went committed to find the perfect person, asked God to answer His prayer, was fully prepared to accept God's choice, and as a result obtained an immediate answer.

Are you serious about revival? Are you prepared to immediately obey God's instructions in pursuing revival? God is also seeking a bride. His instructions are clear. He is anxiously waiting to answer. Are you prepared to receive His specific, quick, perhaps life-changing, answer in your life, in answer to prayer.

"Now let it be that the young woman to whom I say, 'Please let down your pitcher that I may drink,' and she says, 'Drink, and I will also give your camels a drink'—let her be the one You have appointed for Your servant Isaac..." Gen. 24:14

MASTER PLAN OF EVANGELISM

MOMMY AND ME \ MAKING JESUS SMILE

We think that Jesus is smiling on Tuesday mornings when the parade of moms and tots file into our PMC nursery for the “Mommy and Me” program. At the beginning of this program, moms and their little ones learn to exercise together as they follow along in a “Fit Kids” routine. After this, it’s time for the telling of Bible stories and then the joyful singing of songs to Jesus! Next, it’s crafts – with paper, crayons, stickers, and lots of happy interaction between moms and children. Once a month we prepare a free vegetarian lunch, and fathers and other family members are invited to join.

This learning experience is not just for the children. Some moms who attend say they have discovered a new way to minister in the community at “Mommy and Me”. They want to create a similar program in their home churches after their husbands graduate from Andrews University. Here is a letter from one mom: “Dear Mommy and Me leaders, I want to thank you and affirm you for starting the “Mommy and Me” ministry at Pioneer Memorial Church. It has been a great blessing to me and my daughter. We look forward to it every week. We’ve been able to meet new friends that we now see at Sabbath school and other times during the week. We didn’t know anyone else at our stage of life until “Mommy and Me.” Thank you so much, and keep it up! Thank-you!”

All mothers with young children are invited to this program, so feel free to invite friends from the community. Join us soon!

RMES \ MINI-COURSE IN GARDENING

Spring has sprung! Though it may not feel like it when we walk outside, it is officially time to start gardening. At Ruth Murdoch Elementary School, that means it's time for a new mini-course.

Gardening is one of our new Jr. High mini-courses offered this spring. Students will learn why it's important to grow plants from the soil, how gardening benefits the students, how it benefits others, and the marvels of one of God's most amazing gifts – the seed.

"No one can succeed in agriculture or gardening without attention to the laws involved...The attention required in transplanting ... the pruning and watering ... keeping out weeds, disease and insect pests ... not only teach important lessons concerning the development of character, but the work itself is a means of development." (Ellen White, Adventist Home Chapter 21)

God created plants to sustain us and for beauty, to teach us lessons in patience and obedience. What a wonderful gift, and what a fun way to teach young students about our Savior.

GLOBAL MEDIA \ VIEWER REPORT

What do 805 people from Australia, 733 people from the United Kingdom, 221 people from Brazil, 234 people from the Philippines, 535 people from South Africa and 1,180 people from Canada have in common? They are all part of the 25,906 visits www.pmchurch.tv received in the last month.

What does this really mean? It means you are helping a girl from China study God's word: "Hi! As you know, there is no SDA Theological Seminary in mainland China. I'm trying my best to learn something from your ministry. And I'm very blessed by Pioneer Memorial Church."

You are also helping someone in Zambia: "I watched your lessons on the subject above and have benefited a lot. May the Lord richly bless you, your family and the entire church and university." from central Zambia

When you support global video evangelism and the web ministry through MPE you are helping to make a personal impact globally—touching lives, being a resource for people who need to grow in their own spiritual walk with Christ.

There are several ways you can support the media ministries – through your prayers, your financial support or by becoming a media ministry volunteer. Currently we are looking for volunteers who are willing to help during the summer. Experience is always a plus, but a passion for excellence in service is required. If you are interested, please e-mail Nick Wolfer at wolfer@pmchurch.org.

joining a religion will diminish until (mathematically speaking) no one in the country will be religious.

“The idea is pretty simple,” said Richard Wiener of the Research Corporation for Science Advancement, and the University of Arizona. “It posits that social groups that have more members are going to be more attractive to join . . . For example in languages, there can be greater utility or status in speaking Spanish instead of [the dying language] Quechuan in Peru, and similarly there’s some kind of status or utility in being a member of a religion or not.” The reality that more and more people in these particular nations “are identifying themselves as non-affiliated with religion,” Wiener pointed out, led to this study’s conclusion.

In what nine countries is religion predicted to become extinct? Australia, Austria, Canada, the Czech Republic, Finland, Ireland, the Netherlands, New Zealand, and Switzerland. In the Netherlands 40% of those surveyed declare themselves non-affiliated with religion—in the Czech Republic that figure climbs to 60%. And what about the United States? Commenting on the BBC report, theblaze.com indicates that nationwide 15% of Americans now claim no religion, making them the only religious group “growing in all 50 states.”

Obviously, no mathematical formula or theory exists that can accurately predict the spiritual realities of the collective human heart. And yet two millennia ago Jesus himself wondered about the spiritual state of humanity just before he returned to earth: “When the Son of Man comes, will he find faith on the earth?” (Luke 18:8). Will he?

Though Dylan Thomas was not decrying the loss of faith on the earth, his fiery admonition might serve the friends of Christ well, we who must yet move into the gathering darkness to share the promise of light:
Do not go gentle into that good night.
Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

“Rage” is hardly an irenic term—but it can depict the fiery passion of the Spirit against the gathering nightfall of faith, can’t it? Yes, the numbers of the non-affiliated are on the rise in nations once considered Christian. But No, the friends of the Son of Man need not “go gentle” into the approaching night. Rather, let the Radicals, this new generation of missionaries, rise up with the fervor of Christ himself and move into these nine nations (and many more) with the faith of the Savior bright in our own hearts and fresh on our own lips.

Rather than simply raging “against the dying of the light,” is it not better to light a candle in the dark instead? After all the night belongs to Christ. And it may yet be that with our candles high the Son of Man will find faith on the earth when he comes.

CALL TO WORSHIP

People ask, "Who is this one you worship?"

He is the Christ, the one whose word calls creation into being.

People ask, "Who is this one you worship?"

He is the Messiah, the one who is before all things and in whom all things hold together

Come, then, let us worship him who made heaven and earth.

THE WORD

EPHESIANS 3:14-19 NIV

For this reason I kneel before the Father, from whom every family in heaven and on earth derives its name.

I pray that out of his glorious riches he may strengthen you with power through his Spirit in your inner being, so that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith.

And I pray that you, being rooted and established in love, may have power, together with all the Lord's holy people, to grasp how wide and long and high and deep is the love of Christ, and to know this love that surpasses knowledge—

That you may be filled to the measure of all the fullness of God.

LOVE IN WORDS

God's love for humankind is a theme appearing frequently in hymns by Charles Wesley (1707-1788), perhaps nowhere more powerfully than in "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling." The imagery of this vivid hymn seems transcendent, yet somehow personal. It is a poetic celebration of God's seeking in love the redemption of fallen humanity. One commentary states that "Wesley had a gift for writing poetry; he wrote verse continually, his letters often being in rhyme. . . ." He was a most prolific hymn writer, credited with more than 6,500 hymns. Wesley approached hymn subjects from a standpoint that transcended objectivity to embrace personal feeling. His hymns "appealed to the spiritually starved people who, under the preaching of the Wesley brothers [John and Charles], found renewed life, hope, and faith in the Scriptures."

EXPERIENCING GRACE

Something in Common Sabbath School presents “r12 true spirituality” DVD series with Chip Ingram. Being a genuine disciple of Christ flows out of a relationship with Him. It’s about experiencing God’s grace, not earning His love through performance. Romans 12 provides a relational profile of an authentic disciple. Christians who live out this kind of lifestyle are what we call r12 Christians. God is willing to go deeper and grow you into a real disciple...are you ready?

KNITTING HEARTS TOGETHER

Knitting Hearts Together is a subgroup of WINGS, PMC's Women's Ministries. Through knitting, crocheting, and sometimes quilting, we provide prayer shawls and lap blankets for women and men in the church and the community who have recently undergone loss, severe illness, or other difficult experiences. We meet on the second and fourth Tuesday evenings, to knit and crochet together in fellowship, to share names of those we might give a product to, and to pray over each of the completed shawls and lap blankets. Usually one or two of our group will deliver the gift in person. We have experienced many heartwarming visits and prayers with these brothers and sisters. We would be happy to have more people of all ages join our group. If you do not have these skills, members will teach you happily. One of our group leaders knew nothing of crocheting when we began, but now has produced several beautiful shawls. We also accept donations of yarn. If you would like to join us on April 12, please contact Alice Williams, 461.6815 (home), (work) 471.3373, or alicew@andrews.edu. You may contact Lyn MacCarty by e-mail maccarty@sbcglobal.net or phone (cell) 208.3377 or (work) 473.2778 ext. 222.

SPIRITUAL PARENTING

THE “SMALL VOICE”

Recently I've been asked two questions that relate to Easter. One was by a parent with young children who is wondering about the best ways to recognize and celebrate Easter, and the other was by a fifteen year-old who was wondering about the Easter bunny.

QUESTION ONE: Easter wasn't really celebrated in our church when I was growing up, but I don't think we can totally ignore all the holiday decorations and festivities around us. What do Adventists really believe about celebrating Easter?

Here are some things to consider:

- Easter is defined as a festival commemorating Christ's resurrection.
- Easter is one of the most important religious holidays for most Christians.
- Easter is steeped in tradition and rituals developed over centuries.
- Easter also has its secular side with Easter bonnets, bunnies, chocolate eggs, and Easter Baskets.
- Ellen White does not make mention of the word Easter in her writings, but she certainly has much to say about the significance of Christ's death and resurrection.

Easter is a time for remembering. We remember Christ's acts of love for us, His suffering, and most of all His triumph over death, which gives us hope for the future and the promise of eternal life. We remember the power of restoration and renewal.

Easter can also be a time to focus on impossible things done by God, either directly or through those men and women who listened to Him and acted in simple faith. Christ's birth seemed impossible, His life on earth seemed impossible, His crucifixion seemed impossible, and certainly His resurrection seemed impossible. This is a time we can help our children contemplate the impossible things God continues to do in our lives.

When we moved to Andrews University and began attending PMC, there was little mention of Easter. But now we celebrate with the Passion Play on campus and our own Easter Sabbath tradition of taking flowers to the cross in remembrance of loved ones. This beautiful tradition is now part of the fabric of our church. It gives us an excellent opportunity to share stories with our families about the people who are honored, to talk about the resurrection promise and how much it means to us. It gives us an opportunity to talk about death and grief in age-appropriate ways with our children. If you haven't specifically talked about why people take flowers to the cross, I invite you to take this opportunity this year.

QUESTION TWO: What does the chocolate Easter bunny have to do with Easter anyway?

There is no story in the Bible about a long-eared, cotton-tailed Easter Bunny. And real rabbits don't lay eggs either. So why are these traditions so much a part of Easter Sunday? What do they have to do with the resurrection of Jesus? Well, nothing! They were incorporated into the celebration of Easter separately from the Christian tradition of honoring the day Jesus Christ rose from the dead.

The Easter bunny can be traced back to pre-Christian Germany. Spring symbolized new life and rebirth, and eggs were an ancient symbol of fertility. These already practiced pagan traditions and the celebration of Christ's resurrection merged when Roman Catholicism became the dominant religion in Germany. The first story about a rabbit laying eggs and hiding them in a garden was published in 1680. In the 1700s German immigrants who settled in Pennsylvania brought the tradition of the bunny rabbit and the eggs to North America. Nests for the rabbit to lay its eggs in soon followed. As time went on nests became decorated baskets and colorful eggs were swapped for candy, treats and other small gifts.

In closing, I invite you to consider your own Easter traditions and why you celebrate in the way you do. If you don't participate in activities that others around you enjoy, explain to your children the reasons for your beliefs and practices. As Christians we can all bask in the promises of spring and the lasting power of the resurrection.
