"JESUS IS COMING TODAY!"

If you're reading this on May 21, 2011, then that is precisely what the followers of Harold Camping are declaring today—Christ is returning to this earth at 6 p.m. (presumably Pacific Time, since Camping lives in Oakland, California). With his return approximately two percent of this world's population will be immediately raptured to heaven, leaving the rest of earth's inhabitants to be destroyed. In an elaborate theological schematic (which I have pursued on-line), Camping predicts the return of Christ on May 21, 2011, and five months later the Judgment Day destruction of earth and the universe on October 21, 2011.

Harold Camping, a former civil engineer, is the 89 year old founder of Family Radio—a Christian broadcast network that now includes 66 stations globally. He is not a stranger to apocalyptic predictions, having announced that Christ would return on September 6, 1994.

REVIVAL & REFORMATION

SEEK THE LORD

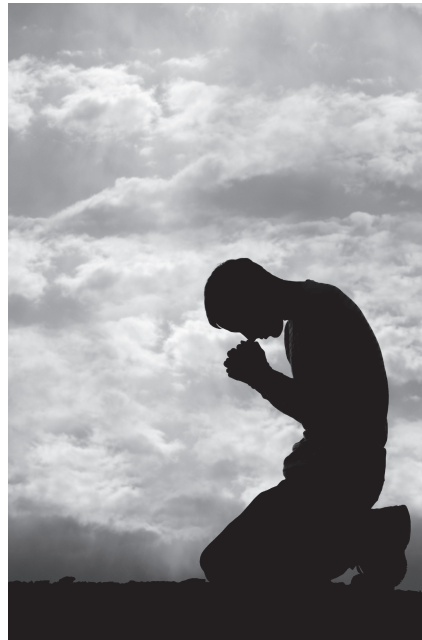

Let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, weep between the porch and the altar, and let them say, Spare Thy people, O Lord, and give not Thine heritage to reproach, that the heathen should rule over them: wherefore should they say among the people, Where is their God?" (Joel 2: 12-17)

"Upon the ministry of the church, the leaders of the people, rests the solemn responsibility to be foremost in this work of reformation. It is time to seek the Lord. It is time for us to seek God as never before for the baptism of His Holy Spirit; to seek Him not only for the forgiveness of sins, but for cleansing from sin; to seek Him for His transforming, keeping power, for hearts of holiness, so that we may be made vessels of grace to others, instruments through whom God can work for the salvation of His people. How can we help others unless we have first received help? How can we minister to others God's forgiving grace and keeping power from sin, if we ourselves do not know what this experience is in our own lives? It is for us to know. God calls us to know, and may we heed this call while yet there is opportunity."

"We need to weep and pray for God to spare His people, to save them from their sins, to recover them from their backsliding, in order that His heritage shall not become a reproach, but shall stand in the light of His truth and in the power of His grace for the salvation of a lost world. We need especially to pray for our dear youth who are beset and assailed by Satan in these evil days as youth never were tempted before."—F. M. Wilcox

MASTER PLAN OF EVANGELISM

YOUTH EVANGELISM \ SUMMER PLANS

The Young and the Restless isn't just a thirty-eight year old soap opera that arguably doesn't deserve mention – the young and restless is also a generation, this generation, or any generation as they grow into adulthood. The next few paragraphs will be two-fold: fold one is an enjoin to this generation, then second, an update of the movements this summer.

The Enjoin: Jesus gave his life to establish a church capable of caring for hurting and tempted people. The restless energy that often gets the young in trouble, has actually been given to them by God so that together it would be channeled to be blessings to others.

The Update: The monies from our MPE giving supports our ministry and dreams to encourage the young or the restless to be engaged in the above enjoin. Here's what we have planned for the summer:

- Leah Page, a religion major will be joining our Pioneer staff as a youth ministry intern.
- Bible and baptismal study classes will start this summer.
- Sun, Fun, and Faith (week day evening programming) will continue this summer—being intentional to have fun and live the purpose of Jesus.
- We dream of building a youth evangelistic team, one that could even take a mission trip in the near future to share the gospel.
- We are strategizing together with the youth to maximize the potential of our tent at the Berrien County Youth Fair for building bridges.
- Take a local mission trip to Benton Harbor, where for a weekend we care for the hurting and the tempted in a youthful way.

Would you please - take these goals and highlight them, put them by your Bible and pray for them!

PRAY

RMES \ PEER-TO-PEER TUTORING

Talisa is an eighth grader at Ruth Murdoch Elementary School and one of the Junior high students who chose to take a special mini course called Peer-to-Peer Tutoring. She enthusiastically recommends it to others at her school. "I love this course! Junior high students have the opportunity to go to Blossomland Learning Center, a school for young people with cognitive disabilities. Our class interacts with them every Tuesday and Thursday. I'm able to engage with the Blossomland students by putting together puzzles, cooking, playing Uno (which is the Blossomland students' favorite game), and a lot more. This quarter, I was able to attend their annual talent show and their swim meet. I love seeing the look of joy on the kids' faces. It makes my experience there even better! The kids are so loving and begin to attach to you on the very first day."

Talisa is learning much more than what can be found in a textbook. She admits that her perspective of children with disabilities has totally changed because of her interaction with them at Blossomland. "I see what they have to go through every day."

We're thankful we can offer this type of course at RMES – a course which gives students an opportunity to be a blessing and be blessed!

That God will continue to change our minds to be more like His Summer is bursting upon us, with its long, warm days of sunshine and endless opportunity. What better thing for teens to do this summer than to enjoy as much "Sun, Fun and Faith", our PMC youth ministry, as possible? This is an excellent opportunity for all of us to invite teens/youth from our neighborhoods to get involved with our church! This summer is shaping up with some exciting plans full of adventure and most importantly centered on experiencing God in real and powerful ways! Here are just a few of the exciting things that are in the works for this summer's "Sun, Fun and Faith" program:

- Weekend Mission Trip to BH
- Skate park Ministry & Adventure
- Weekend Camping Trip
- Bible Study
- Canoe Trip
- Mountain Biking
- Rock Climbing
- Soccer & Other Athletics
- Creative Outreach
- Beach Vespers

Teens, this is your invitation!

Starting the first week of June, be part of activities that will challenge you to have fun and see God in it, spend time with friends and with Jesus, to talk a lot, play a lot, share a lot, and grow a lot. Invite other youth to join us.

Adults, we need volunteers who have a boat and are willing to drive for tubing or skiing 2-3 times this summer (we cover fuel).

PRAY

That teens will enjoy and share the light of the Son this summer

His post-September 6 explanation, as he recently told London's Independent newspaper, is that "at that time there was a lot of the Bible I had not really researched very carefully. But now we've had the chance to do just an enormous amount of additional study and God has given us outstanding proofs that it really is going to happen"^{http://www.independent.co.uk/news/world/americas/us_pseacher-warns...}

Camping has developed an intricate but convoluted system of mathematical calculations that assigns numeric values to biblical themes (redemption, heaven, wrath, judgment, et al), and then multiplies them in order to arrive at time frames. For example, this is from his online paper: "Let us return now to the 722,500.07 days from April 1, 33 A.D. (the day Christ was crucified and died) until May 21, 2011 (the day when God's salvation plan has been altogether completed and all of the true believers are brought, or raptured into Heaven). The number 722,500 is made up of two sets of identical significant numbers. Each number is intimately related to God's salvation plan: $5 \times 10 \times 17 \times 5 \times 10 \times 17 = 722,500$. The atonement or redemption demonstrated by Christ's suffering and death on April 1, 33 A.D. (the number 5) is 100% completed on May 21, 2011 (the number 10) when all the true believers are raptured into Heaven (the number 17)"^{<http://www.familyradio.com/graphical/feat/feature/fracture/fracture/index.html>}

Based on those "calculations" sincere followers of Camping have erected 2000 billboards and crisscrossed every state of this nation with brightly painted camper vans proclaiming the end of the world today, May 21.

But why blog at all about a small apocalyptic movement the secular press has patronizingly dismissed? Here's why: because while I unequivocally reject Harold Camping's misguided at best calculations for the end of the world, I must confess to a quiet admiration for the chutzpah of his followers who have risked public ridicule in order to share with the world their deeply held conviction that Jesus is soon to return. I, too, call myself an "adventist" (one who believes in Christ's soon coming)—what is more, I am a Seventh-day Adventist—but how many of my friends and neighbors have heard me recently testifying to my belief that Jesus is coming soon? Call for a show of hands in worship, and mine quickly shoots up. But ask for a public testimony outside of my congregational comfort zone, and I am strangely silent. Are you the same? What's wrong with us?

Listen to the humbled but still bold Big Fisherman, Peter: "The end of all things is near" (I Peter 4:7). No equivocation there—and he was writing nearly two millennia before our day. "Always be prepared to give an answer to everyone who asks you to give the reason for the hope you have. But do this with gentleness and respect" (3:15). Clearly "hope" is not dependent upon a calculable date for Jesus' return (who himself declared such calculations futile—Matthew 24:36). Hope rests instead upon the bedrock promise of Christ himself: "Look, I am coming soon!" (Revelation 22:12) And it is that divine and biblical certainty that must compel us who still call ourselves "Adventists."

May 21 will come and go. But taking a page from the play book of Harold Camping's followers, shall we not—as followers of the soon-coming Christ—determine that what will not come and go is our fervent hope and hope-filled witness for our Savior?

CALL TO WORSHIP

The mercy of the Lord is from everlasting to everlasting upon those who serve him;

And his loving kindness goes out to all people.

From the rising of the sun until its setting, his name shall be praised.

For the Lord is good; his steadfast love endures forever and his faithfulness is for all generations.

Let us worship God.

THE WORD

MARK 1:1-4,7,8 NIV

The beginning of the good news about Jesus the Messiah, the Son of God, as it is written in Isaiah the prophet: "I will send my messenger ahead of you, who will prepare your way"—

"a voice of one calling in the wilderness, 'Prepare the way for the Lord, make straight paths for him.'"

And so John the Baptist appeared in the wilderness, preaching a baptism of repentance for the forgiveness of sins. And this was his message: "After me comes the one more powerful than I, the straps of whose sandals I am not worthy to stoop down and untie.

I baptize you with water, but he will baptize you with the Holy Spirit."

MUSIC ALIVE

HOW IS IT?

How is it that instrumental worship-service music gets a title like "Come, God, Creator, Holy Spirit" (today's postlude)? How do such words connect with the music? Does the composer make them up? Often, a composer writes an instrumental arrangement of a hymn melody commonly sung with particular words. The first few of those sung words become the title of the instrumental piece. This resulting title can shape the listener's experiencing of the music by directing thoughts toward particular scriptural topics. Many times those words even will give significant hints concerning the music's expression. In today's postlude, Bach's setting of a hymn melody seems joyously to express images of the Spirit's fire and vibrancy. The hymn's melody sounds twice, first in the highest part, then in the lowest.

EXCELLENCE IN TEACHING

CLEON WHITE HONORED

Television viewers across Michiana were introduced to our own Cleon White, principal of Andrews Academy, Wednesday morning, as Tricia Sloma, news anchor for WNDU, presented him with the station's "Excellence in Education" award. The five minute live presentation included video tape of her surprise on-campus appearance at Andrews Academy a few days ago. To the cheers and ovation of the student body, "Mr. White" received Tricia's public recognition. His 32 years of teaching ministry and leadership at the academy and here at Pioneer have blessed our parish, and we join with the wider community in recognizing God's gift of Cleon White to us all. Thank you, Mr. White!

MINISTER THROUGH TECHNOLOGY

Can you picture yourself ministering through technology? Electronic media is an important part of worship here at Pioneer. From hearing the speaker via the P.A. system to seeing images on the screen, technology is at the heart of everything we do. Making this technology work requires a team of dedicated volunteers—15 each week.

This summer we are looking for new volunteers to join the media team. No experience is needed, but a passion for excellence in ministry is required. If you would like to consider being a camera operator, helping with the audio system or creating Power Point contact:
