"The Last Word (1): The Fourth Gospel for a Final Generation"

www.pmchurch.tv

Wilhelm von Humbold: "Language is the formative organ of thought. Intellectual activity, entirely mental, entirely internal, and to some extent passing without trace, becomes through sound, externalized in speech and perceptible to the senses. Thought and language are therefore one and inseparable from each other." (http://www.duke.edu/~pkt10/language/ca.htm) Greek: logos (fr whence come "logo" and "logic" and all the "-ologies") I John 1:1 Revelation 19:11-16  " and the Word was"—John 1:1 New Testament evidences for the deity of Christ: I The He spoke		□ "In the beginning was the"—John 1:1
Greek: logos (fr whence come "logo" and "logic" and all the "-ologies")  I John 1:1 Revelation 19:11-16  " and the Word was"— John 1:1 New Testament evidences for the deity of Christ: The He lived (Heb. 4:15; 1 Peter 2:22) John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29) The He spoke (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29) The He performed (John 5:20; 14:11) The He performed (John 5:20; 14:11) The He previously inhabited (John 5:39; Dan. 9:24-27/Luke 3:1, Matt. 27:51) The He previously inhabited (John 1:1, 2; Col. 1:15-17; Heb. 1:1-4)  C. S. Lewis' apologetic for the divinity of Christ (Mere Christianity 54-56): God gave us, "the sense of right and wrong." God chose a particular, "and spent several centuries hammering into their heads th sort of God he was." Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God." He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55) "I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: 'I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thin we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and		<ul> <li>Wilhelm von Humbold: "Language is the formative organ of thought. Intellectual activity, entire entirely internal, and to some extent passing without trace, becomes through sound, externaliz and perceptible to the senses. Thought and language are therefore one and inseparable from</li> </ul>	zed in speech
I.John 1:1
Revelation 19:11-16  " and the Word was"— John 1:1  New Testament evidences for the deity of Christ:  The He lived (Heb. 4:15; 1 Peter 2:22)  John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29)  The He performed (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29)  The He performed (John 5:20; 14:11)  The He fulfilled (Luke 24:26, 27, 44; John 5:39; Dan. 9:24-27/Luke 3:1, Matt. 27:51)  The He previously inhabited (John 1:1, 2; Col. 1:15-17; Heb. 1:1-4)  C. S. Lewis' apologetic for the divinity of Christ (Mere Christianity 54-56):  God gave us, "the sense of right and wrong."  God chose a particular, and spent several centuries hammering into their heads th sort of God he was."  Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God."  He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)  "I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: 'I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one this we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devi of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with tu Jesus was to reveal God both to men and t
" and the Word was"— John 1:1  New Testament evidences for the deity of Christ:  The He lived (Heb. 4:15; 1 Peter 2:22)  The He spoke (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29)  The He performed (John 5:20; 14:11)  The He performed (Luke 24:26, 27, 44; John 5:39; Dan. 9:24-27/Luke 3:1, Matt. 27:51)  The He previously inhabited (John 5:20; 14:11)  C. S. Lewis' apologetic for the divinity of Christ (Mere Christianity 54-56):  God gave us, "the sense of right and wrong."  God chose a particular, "and spent several centuries hammering into their heads th sort of God he was."  Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God."  He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)  "I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: "I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God." That is one thin we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did not intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty,' the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with u Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emp
New Testament evidences for the deity of Christ:  The He lived (Heb. 4:15; 1 Peter 2:22)  The He spoke (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29)  The He spoke (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29)  The He performed (John 5:20; 14:11)  The He fulfilled (Luke 24:26, 27, 44; John 5:39; Dan. 9:24-27/Luke 3:1, Matt. 27:51)  The He perviously inhabited (John 1:1, 2; Col. 1:15-17; Heb. 1:1-4)  C. S. Lewis' apologetic for the divinity of Christ (Mere Christianity 54-56):  God gave us "", "the sense of right and wrong."  God chose a particular "", "and spent several centuries hammering into their heads the sort of God he was."  Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God."  He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)  "I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with uses was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.		<ul><li>Revelation 19:11-16</li></ul>
New Testament evidences for the deity of Christ:  The He lived (Heb. 4:15; 1 Peter 2:22)  The He spoke (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29)  The He spoke (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29)  The He performed (John 5:20; 14:11)  The He fulfilled (Luke 24:26, 27, 44; John 5:39; Dan. 9:24-27/Luke 3:1, Matt. 27:51)  The He perviously inhabited (John 1:1, 2; Col. 1:15-17; Heb. 1:1-4)  C. S. Lewis' apologetic for the divinity of Christ (Mere Christianity 54-56):  God gave us "", "the sense of right and wrong."  God chose a particular "", "and spent several centuries hammering into their heads the sort of God he was."  Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God."  He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)  "I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with uses was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.
New Testament evidences for the deity of Christ:  The He lived (Heb. 4:15; 1 Peter 2:22)  The He spoke (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29)  The He spoke (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29)  The He performed (John 5:20; 14:11)  The He fulfilled (Luke 24:26, 27, 44; John 5:39; Dan. 9:24-27/Luke 3:1, Matt. 27:51)  The He perviously inhabited (John 1:1, 2; Col. 1:15-17; Heb. 1:1-4)  C. S. Lewis' apologetic for the divinity of Christ (Mere Christianity 54-56):  God gave us "", "the sense of right and wrong."  God chose a particular "", "and spent several centuries hammering into their heads the sort of God he was."  Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God."  He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)  "I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with uses was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.		□ " and the Word was"— John 1:1
The He ispoke (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29) The He spoke (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29) The He performed (John 5:20; 14:11) The He fulfilled (Luke 24:26, 27, 44; John 5:39; Dan. 9:24-27/Luke 3:1, Matt. 27:51) The He previously inhabited (John 1:1, 2; Col. 1:15-17; Heb. 1:1-4) C. S. Lewis' apologetic for the divinity of Christ (Mere Christianity 54-56): God gave us , "the sense of right and wrong." God chose a particular , "and spent several centuries hammering into their heads th sort of God he was." Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God." He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55) "I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: 'I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thin we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that: I must Him.
The He spoke (John 7:46; 14:10; cf. Matt. 7:29)  The He performed (John 5:20; 14:11)  The He performed (John 5:20; 14:11)  The He fulfilled (Luke 24:26, 27, 44; John 5:39; Dan. 9:24-27/Luke 3:1, Matt. 27:51)  The He previously inhabited (John 1:1, 2; Col. 1:15-17; Heb. 1:1-4)  C. S. Lewis' apologetic for the divinity of Christ (Mere Christianity 54-56):  God gave us , "the sense of right and wrong."  God chose a particular , and spent several centuries hammering into their heads th sort of God he was."  Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God."  He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)  "I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him ankill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with u Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must
<ul> <li>The</li></ul>		■ The He spoke (John 7:46: 14:10: cf Matt 7:29)
27:51)  The He previously inhabited		■ The He performed (John 5:20: 14:11)
27:51)  The He previously inhabited		■ The He fulfilled (Luke 24:26, 14:11)	3·1 Matt
<ul> <li>The</li></ul>		27:51)	, J. 1, Watt.
<ul> <li>Heb. 1:1-4)</li> <li>C. S. Lewis' apologetic for the divinity of Christ (Mere Christianity 54-56):</li> <li>God gave us, "the sense of right and wrong."</li> <li>God chose a particular, "and spent several centuries hammering into their heads th sort of God he was."</li> <li>Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God."</li> <li>He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)</li> <li>"I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: 'I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God. That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)</li> <li>Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)</li> <li>If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.  I must Him.</li> </ul>		The He proviously inhabited (John 1:1.2: C	ol 1:15 17:
<ul> <li>C. S. Lewis' apologetic for the divinity of Christ (Mere Christianity 54-56):</li> <li>God gave us, "the sense of right and wrong."</li> <li>God chose a particular, "and spent several centuries hammering into their heads th sort of God he was."</li> <li>Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God."</li> <li>He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)</li> <li>"I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: 'I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)</li> <li>Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)</li> <li>If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.  I must Him.</li> </ul>		The he previously inhabited (John 1.1, 2, C	JI. 1.13-17,
<ul> <li>God gave us</li></ul>
<ul> <li>God chose a particular</li></ul>
<ul> <li>sort of God he was."</li> <li>Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God."</li> <li>He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)</li> <li>"I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: 'I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the Sof God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)</li> <li>Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)</li> <li>If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.  Hi</li></ul>	<ul> <li>God chose a particular, "and spent several centuries hammering into their head</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>Among these Jews a shows up, "who goes about talking as if He was God."</li> <li>He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)</li> <li>"I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: 'I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)</li> <li>Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)</li> <li>If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.  Him.</li> </ul>			neir heads the <ul> <li>He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if he really was the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)</li> <li>"I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: 'I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)</li> <li>Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)</li> <li>If Christ is divine, it means that: <ul> <li>I must</li></ul></li></ul>
the God whose laws are broken and whose love is wounded in every sin." (55)  If am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: 'I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the image of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.  Him.  Him.  I must Him.  I must Him.  I must Him.  I must Him.
<ul> <li>"I am trying here to prevent anyone saying the really foolish thing that people often say about Him: 'I'm ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the Sof God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did not intend to." (55, 56)</li> <li>Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the image of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with usure Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)</li> <li>If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.  I must Him.</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>He says he has always existed and claims to sins. "This makes sense only if h</li> </ul>		he really was ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.			-
ready to accept Jesus as a great moral teacher, but I don't accept His claim to be God.' That is one thir we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.			out Him: 'I'm we must not say. A man who was merely a man and said the sort of things Jesus said would not be a great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the Sof God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the image of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.
great moral teacher. He would either be a lunatic—on a level with the man who says he is a poached egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the Sof God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the image of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.
egg—or else he would the Devil of Hell. You must make your choice. Either this man was, and is, the S of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  • Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the imag of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  • If Christ is divine, it means that:  • I must Him.
of God: or else a madman or something worse. You can shut Him up for a fool, you can spit at Him and kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)  • Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the image of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  • If Christ is divine, it means that:  • I must Him.
<ul> <li>kill Him as a demon; or you can fall at His feet and call Him Lord and God. But let us not come with any patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did n intend to." (55, 56)</li> <li>Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the image of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)</li> <li>If Christ is divine, it means that: <ul> <li>I must</li> <li>I him.</li> </ul> </li> <li>I must</li> <li>I must</li> <li>I must</li> <li>I him.</li> </ul> patronizing nonsense about His being a great human teacher. He has not left that open to us. He did no intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the image of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with use Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.
intend to." (55, 56)  Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the image of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.
<ul> <li>Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was 'the image of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)</li> <li>If Christ is divine, it means that: <ul> <li>I must</li> </ul> </li> </ul>			us. He did not of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to dwell with us Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.
Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought made audib (19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.		<ul> <li>Desire of Ages: "From the days of eternity the Lord Jesus Christ was one with the Father; He was a continuous continuous days."</li> </ul>	was 'the image
(19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.		of God,' the image of His greatness and majesty, 'the outshining of His glory.' By coming to	dwell with us,
(19 emphasis supplied)  If Christ is divine, it means that:  I must Him.		Jesus was to reveal God both to men and to angels. He was the Word of God—God's thought	t made audible."
<ul> <li>If Christ is divine, it means that:</li> <li>I must Him.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must in Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> </ul>		` ' ' ' ' ' ' ' ' ' ' ' ' ' ' ' ' ' ' '
<ul> <li>I must in Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> </ul>
<ul> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> </ul>		■ I must in Him
<ul> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> </ul>		- I must III I IIII.
■ I must Him. ■ I must Him.
■ I must Him.
<ul> <li>I must Him.</li> <li>I must Him.</li> </ul>
■ I must Him.		■ I must Him.
		■ I must Him.

"God's first Word is His last Word and His best Word"