WELCOME!

Welcome new students and returning veterans—we're glad you're here! All week long this campus has been pulsating with the arrival of this university's newest students. I had the privilege of meeting with their parents Monday afternoon and with the Freshmen class last evening at vespers, and I can assure you they are a new force to be reckoned with here on campus. But for all of us may this Sabbath before the new year begins bring the strength and power, the joy and peace of Christ's Spirit to all our worshiping hearts.

ELEGY FOR ELLICOTT

They grew up together in this small Maryland town, those two 19-year-old college coeds. Summer was their favorite season. And what's not to like about a sultry night high atop the railroad bridge in Ellicott City? Which is where Elizabeth and Rose were dangling their feet this Monday around midnight—their last night before heading back to college. The view beneath the stars above that sleepy neighborhood is why the bridge has been a favorite destination for generations.

The young women tweeted their friends. "Drinking on top of the Ellicott City sign." "Looking down on old ec." Photos attached to their tweets "showed their view from the bridge and their bare feet, one with painted blue toenails, dangling over the edge." Another tweet, "Levitating."

REVIVAL & REFORMATION

A NEW CLEAN START EVERY DAY & EACH YEAR

“We are still alive because the LORD’S faithful love never ends. Every morning he shows it in new ways! You are so very true and loyal! I say to myself, ‘The LORD is my God, and I trust him.’” Lamentations 3:22-24 [Easy-To-Read-Version]

“Because of this decision (to accept Christ) we don’t evaluate people by what they have or how they look. We looked at the Messiah that way once and got it all wrong, as you know. We certainly don’t look at him that way anymore. Now we look inside, and what we see is that anyone united with the Messiah gets a fresh start, is created new. The old life is gone; a new life burgeons! Look at it! All this comes from the God who settled the relationship between us and him, and then called us to settle our relationships with each other. God put the world square with himself through the Messiah, giving the world a fresh start by offering forgiveness of sins. God has given us the task of telling everyone what he is doing. We’re Christ’s representatives. God uses us to persuade men and women to drop their differences and enter into God’s work of making things right between them. We’re speaking for Christ himself now: Become friends with God; he’s already a friend with you.” 2 Corinthians 5:16-20 [The Message]

Pray for spiritual blessings and safe travel for participants going home from:

- Campestre Hispano (Hispanic Campmeeting): Aug. 31–Sept. 2 at Camp Akita in Gilson, IL
- Campestre Hispano: Aug. 31–Sept. 3 at Timber Ridge Camp in Spencer, IN

Please pray:

- For the freshmen and transfer students as they start their spiritual journey this weekend.
- That the freshmen students will assimilate quickly into campus life.
- That the international students will have no legal distractions as they begin the semester.
- That all new and returning students will search for God with the same intensity that He is searching for them.
- For faculty, that they will be able to portray and model the character of God in the classroom.
- For staff, that they will model for students another education in Christian work ethics.
- That House of Prayer will continue to grow.
- That day by day we may find God’s daily plan for our lives.

“And he that sat upon the throne said, ‘Behold, I make all things new.’” Revelation 21:5 [KJV]

NEIGHBOR TO NEIGHBOR / NEW SERVICES AVAILABLE

Did you hear the good news? Neighbor To Neighbor, our Seventh-day Adventist community service center in Berrien Springs, just added another service. This center provides assistance to families and individuals in a warm, Christian, family atmosphere. It started as a simple church-aid endeavor in the 1920s and has grown to include a Thrift Store and a Family Emergency Services program offering assistance with food, clothing, furniture, small appliances, and household items. It continues to expand its impact in the community with its many outreach endeavors, such as the distribution of Bags of Love and layettes to low-income families through several partner agencies. Now, it has partnered with The Samaritan Counseling Center of Southwestern Michigan to make counseling services available at its facility.

Samaritan Counseling Center began office hours at N2N on August 2 with professional holistic counseling for individuals, couples, families and groups. Kim Forsey,

Executive Director of SCC says that “finding another not-for-profit organization that has a similar mission to serve Berrien Springs is an ideal partnership.”

“We are delighted,” says Laura Meyer, N2N Executive Director. “Opening our facility to the additional quality services of Samaritan Counseling is a win-win situation for our Neighbor to Neighbor clients.”

Neighbor To Neighbor not only serves Berrien County, but clients come from as far as Van Buren, Cass counties and beyond. Many of them come from complicated or traumatic situations and professional counseling can give them tools that will help them function well on a day-to-day basis. Pray for us as we bring hope to others. Our goal is to bring glory to God by meeting our neighbors’ needs, as taught in the scriptures through the example Jesus Christ.

PRAY

For genuine love for our neighbors

MASTER PLAN OF EVANGELISM

YOUTH TENT / SHARING THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

At the Berrien County youth fair tent this year, we decided to “Share the Ten Commandments.” Each of the 328 participants were asked if they were familiar with the Ten Commandments. We explained that the 10 Commandments were divided in two sections: Man’s relationship with God and man’s relationship with humanity. The 10 Commandments were displayed in several languages. As the youth walked through the display, each participant was asked to write a response in answer to this question: “What would the world be like if everyone chose to keep the commandments?” Other activities included a hopscotch game with questions about the Ten Commandments, crossword puzzles, coloring, and a drawing with prizes. It was amazing to see how easy it was to talk to youth about God’s “10 Rules” as some of them called it. It was also exciting to see our 49 volunteers inspire children and youth to live a passionate relationship with God when sharing God’s Commandments. To the adults, including specific requests by workers setting up the carnival rides, we gave The Law of Liberty Enduring Principles of Freedom magazine and The Commandments and the Sabbath magazine. 750 magazines were given away along with copies of Steps to Christ and the Great Controversy. Special thanks to God, the School of Architecture, Kevin Wein, Victor Tenorio and the many volunteers who made the event a success.

PRAY

For all the people that received books and learned more about the 10 Commandments

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

RMES / SIGHTS, SOUNDS, AND EMOTIONS

The first day of school is one filled with so many sights, sounds, and emotions. Walking through the halls you see students with new backpacks and parents holding cameras, some stopped and looking down the halls, others practically running to their classrooms. Students filled with exuberance, others feeling anxious or nervous, are greeted warmly by teachers who know their names even though they may have never met. The Pledge of Allegiance, our school theme song "One Voice," and other familiar sounds fill the air. Applause even broke out in the Jr. High as new students introduced themselves!

As we begin another school year at Ruth Murdoch Elementary School, we hope that you will "Let the little children come," (Matthew 19:14) and know that they will spend a year with us where they will learn about Jesus' love through their teachers, their friends, and through prayer.

For our students and staff as they begin this new journey together

Minutes later a CSX freight train loaded to the brim with coal thundered down the tracks toward the bridge. Witnesses later described the squealing of brakes and the roar of a crash, as the train derailed, dumping its payload of coal onto the dark city street beneath the bridge. The two girls' bodies were later found beneath the coal. "Friends tweet before dying in Maryland train derailment" read the headline (South Bend Tribune 8-22-12).

Is the story a metaphor of life anymore? Beyond the bitter pain and loss of two young friends and two devastated families, that terrible tragedy in Ellicott City remains a tale of how quickly, how in an instant life as we know it can change. Irreparably change. Forever.

The ancient writer Paul in Holy Scripture scribbled a prophecy once of how the world—the one you and I live in and call "home"—will end. Read his prediction—even just once—and you, too, will sense how eerily similar to Ellicott City is this prophecy. A week from today we begin a mini-series that will examine this one-line prophetic prediction: "The Dark Night Rises" (that's with an N, not a K).

Because it is dark. The night is rising. And the end is thundering through the midnight toward us. But you don't have to be found tweeting the night away oblivious to the impending. Join me right here next week—and with eyes wide open, we can face the rising night together. With Him.

CALL TO WORSHIP

We wait for the Lord, our souls wait and in his words we hope;

Our souls wait for the Lord more than early workers for the dawn.

With the Lord there is constant love, and with him is plenteous redemption.

And he will redeem us from all our sin.

Let us worship God with joy.

THE WORD

HEBREWS 10:23-25, 37 NIV

Let us hold unswervingly to the hope we profess, for he who promised is faithful.

And let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds, not giving up meeting together, as some are in the habit of doing, but encouraging one another —and all the more as you see the Day approaching.

For, “In just a little while, he who is coming will come and will not delay.”

MUSIC ALIVE

JOY, MUCH JOY

It must be one of the more widely-known hymn melodies. Today’s Hymn of Praise, “Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee”, has a melody adapted from the ninth symphony by Ludwig van Beethoven. There it draws its text from the so-called “Ode to Joy.” In Beethoven’s work, the melody is introduced in a most-interesting way. It occurs late in a symphony in which Beethoven has introduced a variety of musical themes. As an introduction to this climactic melody that in its development concludes this colossal symphony, Beethoven reintroduces—and rejects—various fragments of what has come before. Then the hymn-prototype melody enters in majestic quietude, eventually rising to almost-feverish jubilation. It’s worth thinking about—what to reject on the way to much joy.

MINISTER THROUGH TECHNOLOGY

Can you picture yourself ministering through technology? Electronic media is an important part of worship here at Pioneer. From hearing the speaker via the P.A. system, to seeing images on the screen; technology is at the heart of everything we do. Making this technology work requires a team of dedicated volunteers—15 each week.

Right now we are looking for new volunteers to join the media team. No experience is needed, but a passion for excellence in ministry is required. If you would like to consider being a camera operator, helping with the audio system, or creating Power Point contact:
