IS THIS AN ANSWER TO PRAYER?

For ninety days this summer this campus and congregation claimed God's promise, "I will do a new thing. . . . I will pour water on those who are thirsty and floods on the dry ground; I will pour My Spirit on your descendants, and My blessing on your offspring" (Isaiah 43:19/44:3). And then at the end of the summer, we drew a large circle in the sand, stepped into that circle together and declared to God that we would not leave this circle until He fulfills His promise to send rain.

Did He? Has He? I am firmly convicted that in fact He has already begun to answer our collective prayers. How else shall we explain the overwhelming response of this campus and community to the preaching/teaching of David Asscherick last week? Except for NET98, we have never seen the

“I WILL DO A NEW THING”

THE LORD IS DOING A NEW THING

A member of the PMC Prayer Team has shared the following story of God doing a new thing in PMC.

“Five months ago, Pastor Dwight Nelson asked us to pray that God would do a new thing in PMC and in the neighborhood. I am praising God for what He is doing with an agnostic friend of mine. The following story illustrates how God is answering my thirty-year intercession, doing a new thing for both a colleague and me.

Three decades ago I met a businessman on the West Coast, and initiated a number of transactions with him. Not long afterward, he noticed that I was a Christian who also observed the Sabbath of the Bible. He wasted no time informing me that he was a staunch agnostic, and had no reason to change. I did not allow that difference to interfere with our business dealings or my commitment to his family. Over the years, we remained friends and pursued mutual professional interests.

Imagine my surprise, not long ago, when my friend informed me that he and his wife wanted to retire in Michigan. He also commented that they would like to find a home not far from mine, and I urged them to move quickly. The next surprise came when they purchased a house next to some lovable PMC Christians who promptly made them feel at home in the neighborhood.

Upon observing this new thing I could not restrain myself, and I invited my friend to attend church with me. He declined on the basis of his professed agnosticism. Unwilling to deflate his ego, I have decided to wait patiently before telling him that God led him to PMC. Knowing that God’s Spirit undertook new measures to reach him, I can pray that Jesus will change me, and make me effective in bringing others to Him.

Is 30+ years too long to wait for God to work? Let us pray that God will do a new thing in our lives to help us reach our un-churched friends and neighbors.” –Anonymous

“The Lord is not slow to do what he has promised, as some think. Instead, he is patient with you, because he does not want anyone to be destroyed, but wants all to turn away from their sins.”

2 PETER 3:9 GNT

K-1 SABBATH SCHOOL / WE'RE READY FOR FALL

If you think that it looks like the seasons are changing, you should visit the K-1 Sabbath School room. Our classroom has everything, including falling leaves, a life-size deer, a waterfall and a beaver dam. Our four-year-olds are learning about the magnificent changes that take place in the fall as nature prepares for winter.

Did you know that turtles breathe through a layer of special skin between their head and front legs when they hibernate? Or that bears won't start hibernation until it snows enough to cover their tracks and scent? How about the fact that tiny lady bugs huddle together to make a mound bigger than a bushel basket to help them stay warm? Everything we are learning points to our wonderful Creator God.

Next Sabbath, our children are starting to raise money for their "special gift for Baby Jesus." Last year we collected over $700 to buy food, medical supplies and farm animals for our friends in third-world countries. If you want to help, mark your tithe envelope "K-1 Christmas Project," or find one of the kids from K-1!

Right now we are in need of several small-group teachers from 10:20 to 11:30 AM on Sabbath mornings. These teachers sit with a small group of children to help them take part in group activities, and later teach them the Bible story. The impact that they make on young lives is huge and for eternity! If you would like to help but can't come every Sabbath, we'd love to add you to our list of substitute teachers. Haven't done this type of thing before? Don't worry; we will help you get comfortable with the children! The rewards are immeasurable. -Llana Chapman

MASTER PLAN OF EVANGELISM

HARBOR OF HOPE / THE AMBASSADORS

The same Spirit that led Andrews University students to go to Benton Harbor 10 years ago and share the love of Jesus was the same Spirit that compelled the birth of the Ambassadors—Harbor of Hope’s Bible work ministry.

On Sabbath, August 31, a total of eight pairs of Bible workers decided to go out into the community. While some of the volunteers had previous experience, most of them had no experience. “I had never given anyone a Bible study so I was kind of nervous at first,” says Keitha Grant, a Public Health graduate student at Andrews University, “But just being out there and sharing God’s Word with people has been such a blessing for me.”

The efforts of the Ambassadors were not in vain. After nine weeks of knocking on doors, visiting, praying, and sharing God’s Word, four individuals decided to commit their lives to Jesus and be baptized. Amazingly, one of those individuals was one of the Bible workers. The Scripture rings true: “He who refreshes others shall himself be refreshed.”

If you are interested in joining the Ambassadors please email Brian Irby at hohambassadors@gmail.com or call 217.725.2760.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

RMES / A SCHOOL FULL OF ARTISTS

RMES is known for various positive things. A culturally diverse student body, high academic standards, caring professional faculty and staff, among other things. One thing that you may not know about RMES is that it is a school full of artists!

Moses was talking to the Israelites in Ex. 35 when he said, “And He has filled him with the Spirit of God, with skill, with intelligence, with knowledge, and with all craftsmanship, to devise artistic designs.” God gave His people the gift of art, the power of skill, the freedom of creativity. At RMES we feel that it is still our responsibility today to give our students the opportunity to fine-tune their artistic gifts for His glory.

Our students learn many different styles of art—from paint to chalk, from abstract to shading, from pottery to paper mache. While walking down our hallways, many various types of art hang proudly on display. It is amazing that even our youngest students have been blessed with the gift of art!

While our students in grades K-6 typically reserve one day a week for art class, art is integrated into many subject areas throughout the curriculum. Our Jr. High mini-course program offers art several times a week. Courses include watercolors, arts and crafts, ceramics, drawing, and more.

If you haven't seen the art displays at RMES, stop by for a visit! RMES art displays are a colorful reminder about His gifts to us! –Wendy Keough sanctuary so filled every evening of the week. Last Friday night there were so many eager students and seekers in attendance, that not only our sanctuary and balcony were filled, but so was our youth chapel, which then spilled over into our earliten loft as well. Everybody crowded into this church to listen to a series, "This Is My Church?" A series title that ended with a question mark, but a series on campus that ended the same sentence with an exclamation mark!

"I will do a new thing," God has promised. And I am convinced that what we experienced on this campus last week was a divine down-payment on that promise. "I will pour My Spirit on those who are thirsty." And by the hundreds the thirsty showed up each evening. And when it was over, 58 individuals made the decision to follow Jesus in baptism—hundreds of others renewed their commitment to Christ and pledged their lives in covenant relationship with Him for the rest of life's journey.

But I believe last week was only a down-payment. Which means there is more to come! You and I can be sure of that. More of the outpouring of the Holy Spirit, more of decisions for Christ and baptism, more—many, many more—of lives now willing to place their all on the line (or the altar) for the call of Jesus to "go into all the world" on His behalf. Many, I believe, will trace their soon-to-be-made decision to become a Kingdom missionary (in this land or abroad) to their covenant with Christ last week.

Which is why our autumn worship and pulpit series here at Pioneer takes a sudden and unplanned turn today. "Don't Cry but Do" will connect our worshiping hearts with the passion of the God whose bouquet is now in the center of our table (what's that "bouquet?"—listen to the recordings of David Asscherick's presentations that will be made available—details for acquiring those recordings will be announced in our worship bulletin).

And that is why, in the words of Lord Admiral Nelson in the Battle of Trafalgar, "We have only begun to fight!" Meaning, we must not diminish our prayers for the fulfillment of God's Isaiah promise even for a moment. Rather, we must pray even more now. Now that we have seen that indeed our God is able to mightily answer the prayers of His thirsty children. After all, isn't it also His promise: "He who has begun a good work in you will bring it to completion by the Day of Christ Jesus" (Philippians 1:6). Then let us pray on!

CALL TO WORSHIP

In you, O Lord, do we take refuge; in you do we place our trust!

You have done great things, O God, who is like you?

We sing praises to you, O God, our lips shout for joy.

And our tongues speak of your righteous help all the day long, and we praise your holy name.

THE WORD

PSALM 126:3-6 NIV

The LORD has done great things for us, and we are filled with joy.

Restore our fortunes, Lord, like streams in the Negev.

Those who sow with tears will reap with songs of joy.

Those who go out weeping, carrying seed to sow, will return with songs of joy, carrying sheaves with them.

COUNTRIES HEAVENLY AND EARTHLY

He was an ambassador from one country to another who wrote about his country and yet another—heaven. Sir Cecil Spring-Rice (1859-1918) was British ambassador to the United States. An altered version of his “I Vow to Thee, My Country” appears as hymn 648 in the SDA Hymnal. His lines are said to have been written the day before he died. A commentator wrote, “The vow recorded in them had been kept long before he put it into words, for he had served his country for a quarter of a century with the ‘love that never falters’ . . .” Gustav Holst composed a melody for his “Jupiter,” that has been slightly altered as the melody of hymn 648, though Holst may not have intended words to be sung to this grand melody.
