WELCOME

to Pioneer

Welcome! As I've been contemplating what I value most in light of the consumer bend during this Advent season, this riddle came to mind from J.R.R. Tolkien's classic The Hobbit.

*This thing all things devours;
Birds, beasts, trees, flowers;
Gnaws iron, bites steel;
Grinds hard stones to meal;
Slays king, ruins town,
And beats mountain down.*

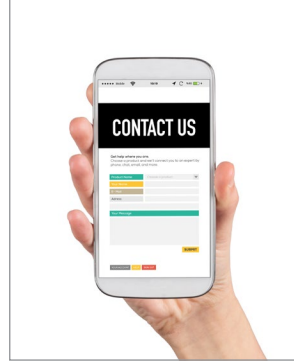

Did you figure it out? Take a minute or two. Yep. The answer is "Time." There are a number of ways to quantify the value of your time. As God looks through eternity, He values time with us so much that He gave us what this season is really about, the gift of Jesus. Through Jesus, He invites us into a timeless relationship with Him; Merry Christmas!

MERRY CHRISTMAS FROM DOLLAR GENERAL

BY DWIGHT K. NELSON

Just in time for the holidays comes an interview with Todd Vasos, CEO of Dollar General. Everybody knows Dollar General—we even have one here in our village of Berrien Springs. With many if not most of the items priced in the familiar range of a dollar plus a few more (depending on the product), it turns out Dollar General is a booming business enterprise with around 14,000 stores in this country, boasting a market value of $22 billion. Not bad for a dollar here and a dollar there!

What caught my eye, however, was what Vasos stated in his interview with the Wall Street Journal (reported in vox.com): "The economy is continuing to create more of our core customer," Vasos said. This is how he described the typical Dollar General customer: 'Doesn't look at her pantry or her refrigerator and say, "You know, I'm going to be out of ketchup in the next few days. I'm going to order a few bottles.["] The core customer uses the last bit of ketchup at the table the night prior, and either on her way to work or on her way home picks up one bottle'" (www.vox.com/politics-and-politics/2017/12/4/16735340/dollar-general-ceo-economy).

Picks up just one bottle? Apparently that's how she shops, or that's the only way she can afford to shop.

"God rest ye merry gentlemen, let nothing you dismay."

"While many large retailers are closing locations, Dollar General executives said they planned to build thousands more stores, most in small communities that have otherwise shown few signs of the U.S. economic recovery" (Wall Street Journal ibid.).

"Remember Christ our Savior was born on Christmas Day."

"The more the rural U.S. struggles, company officials said, the more places Dollar General [which "targets customers making $40,000 a year or less"] has found to prosper. 'The economy is continuing to create more of our core customer,' Chief Executive Todd Vasos said in an interview at the company's Goodlettsville, Tenn., headquarters" (ibid.).

"To save us all from Satan's pow'r when we were gone astray."

"And she gave birth to her firstborn, a son. She wrapped him in cloths and placed him in a manger [crude box for cow feed], because there was no guest room available for them" (Luke 2:7).

"Oh tidings of comfort and joy, comfort and joy."

"Please pass the ketchup."

"Oh tidings of comfort and joy."

Amen. ■

Making a Difference Through SOUP FOR STUDENTS

BY RODLIE ORTIZ

Have you ever stayed in a Double Tree hotel? If you have, you know that a great treat is waiting for you when you check in. You see, whenever you arrive you are greeted and given a warm, baked-fresh daily, good-sized chocolate chip cookie. Don't let out their secret, but if you are nice and ask, they'll give you a second one as well.

And all God's people said? Amen!
Now just think about this: what do you think that highly positive association does in the mind of a guest? It makes people look forward to staying there, doesn't it?

Let's think it through on a deeper level.
It begins with the smell. Your nose catches the aroma of delicious food in the air. In the blink of an eye, the brain registers that food is coming, and instructs the salivary gland underneath your tongue to produce saliva. It's that good 'ol Pavlovian effect in action. But that's just the beginning.

The moment you take your first bite, a complex mix of hormones begins rushing your system: endorphins, serotonin, and dopamine. Then there's oxytocin. That's the "bonding" hormone. It helps a mother bond to her baby after birth. It's also released when certain foods are eaten. Can you see where I'm headed here? The person enjoys the cookie and associates those positive emotions with DoubleTree hotels.

Genius.

So what does this have to do with you?

At Pioneer, we are unapologetically the University church. We have people from many backgrounds who attend, but we must never forget those who live on this campus, the students. That's why every semester we hold a special event called Soup for Students during finals week. They're tired by this point in the year. Some of them have run out of money on their cafeteria cards. So we feed them. With soup. Our prayer, of course, is that by enjoying the warm food we give, they will feel and know that this church family loves them.

OK, here's where you come in. We want to give you an opportunity to make a difference in the life of one of our students. You can do so in two different ways:

① YOU CAN BRING FOOD

At every Soup for Students event, we feature over 25 different pots of soup. Also, pizza, salad, cookies—the works. If you have brought soup before in the past, we need you to bring some again this year. If you have never brought some, consider this your chance to bless students in this way for the first time. Every pot of soup makes a difference.

② YOU CAN VOLUNTEER

We need a total of eleven volunteers for this event. Four will be part of the "pre" team to help bake cookies, prepare the pizza, and begin receiving the soups as people drop them off. Four are needed for the actual event to swap out the soups when they are empty, wash pots in the back, and to continue baking cookies. The final three volunteers are for the "post" team. They help with final cleanup and by putting the tables and chairs away.

To be a part of this great experience, contact Lailane Legoh at 269.471.3543 or lailane.legoh@pmchurch.org. Soup for Students takes place on December 12, at 6:00 PM in the PMC Commons. ■

MUSIC ALIVE

COME

Today's opening choral music uses as its text a modernization and alteration of the first stanza and refrain of hymn 140. Poetic asking Christ to come has been in many eloquent forms through centuries. Emily Elliott, author of this hymn, wrote a kind of short sermon in verse, relating her words closely to the text "There was no room for them in the inn" (see Luke 2:7). She was no older than 28 years when she wrote the text. It appeared in print in 1864 for choir and children of a particular parish school, Brighton, England. Today's choral music uses a melody composed for it that is quite different in comparison with the hymnal's melody, adopting a serenely-meditative interpretation of this moment of prayer. ■
