WELCOME!

On this beautiful September morning, we WELCOME you to the Pioneer Church family, a congregation of all ages, representing many nationalities and including a large student population. What a blessing to be in this House of Prayer for All People on this Sabbath Day! As we blend our voices in praise, bow in prayer and study God's Word together, may we truly know the joy of Christian fellowship. If you are a guest, please let us know by signing a guest book at one of the welcome centers and completing the CONNECT card you will find in this bulletin. All guests are also invited to a special Sabbath meal in the Commons immediately following second service. Again, WELCOME! We are so glad you came! —Sharon Terrell

ANNOUNCEMENTS

1027 TO ONE

BY DWIGHT K. NELSON

“Here’s a Fourth Watch story for you,” emailed one of the readers of this blog. And I agree.

Early Sunday morning, June 25, 2006, Corporal Gilad Shalit, a nineteen-year-old soldier with the Israel Defense Forces, was kidnapped by Hamas militants on the Israeli side of its border with Gaza. Abducted back into Gaza, Corporal Shalit became the rallying cry of a nation caught between two clashing ideals: never negotiate with terrorists versus never abandon one of your own. Hamas refused International Red Cross requests to visit Shalit on grounds that it would reveal the captured soldier’s whereabouts. Over the years of his captivity “Free Shalit” rallies across Israel increased pressure on the Israeli government to achieve his release.

The news this week that Hamas had agreed to return Corporal Shalit was met with jubilation by Israelis . . . until the negotiated terms of the release were reported. And suddenly the country was divided. How much is one Israeli soldier worth? 1,027 convicted Palestinian prisoners? Listen to one Israeli family’s reaction: “Embittered father Zeev Rapp, 66, sat at home and watched the television in disgust. In 1992, Amrin [one of the released Palestinian prisoners] stabbed Rapp’s daughter Helena, 15, in the heart as she was on her way to school. Now, he was . . . walking free with other smiling prisoners, flashing victory signs and kissing the ground. “We feel as though our daughter has been murdered all over again” (South Bend Tribune 10-19-11). And Shalit? Egyptian television released the first images of the now freed corporal, “pale, gaunt . . . in a dark baseball cap, exiting a car in Egypt, which mediated the handover” (ibid). Ecstasy for his family, mourning for another. How much is one Israeli soldier worth?

So how much is one sinner worth—Israeli, Palestinian, American, Afghan, Chinese, Sudanese, Mexican, Indian? How many earth children would God be willing to pardon and release for the exchange of His own Son? I realize the metaphor shifts and collapses the moment we introduce Calvary. But you do have to wonder, don’t you, the prisoner exchange that effected our salvation and release?

The psalmist struggled over the dilemma: “No one can redeem the life of another or give to God a ransom for them—the ransom for a life is costly, no payment is ever enough” (Psalm 49:7, 8 NIV). How true. How could any of us possibly provide the ransom for just one sinner even in a thousand lifetimes? And yet the stunning announcement of the Good News is that God found the ransom for this rebel race within His own circle, within Himself. “And the LORD has laid on Him the iniquity of us all” (Isaiah 53:6 NKJV). That’s not 1,027 to one. Nor is it seven billion to one. It’s every human being in the history of this planet to One—“The Son of Man came to give His life a ransom for many” (Mark 10:45). Very many!

SO HOW MUCH IS ONE SINNER WORTH?

Because God has been into prisoner exchanges for a long time, hasn’t He? Take that Friday morning the rabble clamored for a murderer in exchange for the Innocent—and got Barabbas instead of Jesus of Nazareth. But whether it’s one for One, or billions for One, the numbers really don’t matter, do they? Love’s radical prisoner exchange is beyond comprehension. ■

GROW TOGETHER

BY JESSICA YOONG

I was blessed to have been a part of an all girls GROW Group last year. The group was composed of 8-10 high school and college-aged young ladies, and Melanie Goetz was our group leader. We met in the Goetz home every Thursday and these meetings were the highlight of my week. Melanie would provide a yummy vegan dessert at the start of the study, and we would all talk about what had happened in our lives during that week. The Bible study topics were always interesting and the lessons we learned were relevant to us and could be applied to our daily lives. We sought guidance from the Bible on how to live a Christ-centered life and we examined Bible passages as we strove to understand the deeper meaning that can be found in the familiar Bible stories and parables. Melanie followed a lesson plan that included passages from many of Ellen White's writings for gaining further insight. We also discussed thought-provoking questions that encouraged us to ponder how a person who claims Christ as her example should make decisions and relate to those around her. We would pray in pairs and also as a group. I firmly believe that when two or more are gathered in Jesus' name He is there. I could feel God's presence with us as we prayed and I could feel the peace that would fill the room as we poured out our hearts to God whether in petition or praise.

As our Bible study progressed through the year and the weather grew colder outside, we enjoyed not only the warmth of a glowing fireplace but also the warmth of trust and friendship. All of the group members came from different backgrounds but each one had a desire to grow in her relationship with Christ. The Thursday evening Bible study group became not only a place to nurture our relationship with God but also a place to develop friendships and learn to support and encourage one another.

I consider myself doubly blessed; because of the impact that our GROW Group had on us, Chelcie Coleman (a friend from the Bible study group) and I were impressed to create and lead a Bible study of our own. Our new group was composed of high school freshman and sophomore girls. Chelcie and I were inspired by the GROW Group that we had been members of and hoped to recreate the same positive experience for the girls on our own. The Bible study group that we led met at my house on Sabbath afternoons and we studied topics such as the end times, the significance of the Sabbath, and how to share the love of Christ with others in a practical way. It was an incredible experience and I learned that one of the best ways to nurture your own faith is through sharing what you have learned with others.

Through being both a member of a GROW Group and being a Group leader, I have been blessed to grow in my relationship with God and with others. It has been an experience that has strengthened my walk with God and enriched my life. I encourage you to join a GROW Group and see what this experience does for your life. ■

“God’s Abundant Pantry is an outreach ministry that has been supported by PMC members for 35+ years. Last week we served 156 student family units who depend on supplemental food to survive while getting their advanced education from Andrews University. Following is a recent testimonial received from one of the student families served.” –Chuck Peck

My name is Sylvana. I am the wife of a seminarian and mother. I am writing to express my deepest gratitude about the service and devotion of the Pantry.

my kitchen because although we are on a low budget, we still want to eat healthy. For example, last week, we thought about changing our toothbrushes and God gave us brand new ones on Thursday.

“YOU CAN BE SURE THAT GOD WILL TAKE CARE OF EVERYTHING YOU NEED, HIS GENEROSITY EXCEEDING EVEN YOURS IN THE GLORY THAT POURS FROM JESUS. OUR GOD AND FATHER ABOUND IN GLORY THAT JUST POURS OUT INTO ETERNITY” (PHILIPPIANS 4:19 THE MESSAGE)

We are now starting our third year at Andrews. At the end of the month, after paying the rent, we barely have any pennies left until the next pay day.

My husband is the only one allowed to work on campus and what he earns, as an international, non-sponsored student does not help us make it through the month. Therefore, the supplement of food that we get from the Pantry is real “manna” for us.

Every Tuesday and Thursday, I start to pray for the volunteers who serve us. They are always on time and always smiling. God gives me exactly what I need in

I want to thank each and every one who gives his/her time, money, leadership gifts, etc., to serve us. God knows how many blessings you bring to houses every week.

God bless this ministry!

Yours sincerely,
Sylvana ■

Therefore, since we have a great high priest who has ascended into heaven, Jesus the Son of God, let us hold firmly to the faith we profess.

For we do not have a high priest who is unable to empathize with our weaknesses, but we have one who has been tempted in every way, just as we are—yet he did not sin.

Let us then approach God's throne of grace with confidence, so that we may receive mercy and find grace to help us in our time of need.

MUSIC ALIVE

LOVE—DEEP, BROAD, HIGH

From the incarnation of Jesus to His ascension and sending of the Holy Spirit, the text of hymn no. 148 tells a broad-reaching story of Jesus Christ. “O love, how deep, how broad, how high” refers to the marvel of the Son of God becoming mortal for the sake of mortals. Today’s Worship in Music takes for its melody hymn no. 404, to which this text often is sung. Today’s version takes this melody and weaves a commentary intended to invoke richness of reflection about God’s love. Why not follow the text of no. 148 while the music sounds today? Additionally, we may reflect on departing summer’s blessings during today’s children’s offertory, associated with these words: “My heart abounds with pleasure In this fair summer time, When God, with fullest measure, Renews the world benign.” ■

CHIAPAS MISSION TRIP

BY MICHEAL GOETZ

With a month and a half left before our team of 19 were to leave for Mexico to lead evangelism in 15 different communities and churches, we were still waiting for God to provide the funds for the plane tickets. On the first Sabbath of June this summer, we put the word out to our church that God was leading our youth group on a mission trip to Chiapas. We asked God for $10,000 and He answered that Sabbath with $10,342. In any moments of doubt we may have had before that tremendous offering, surely we knew then that God had called this team of young evangelists to give their best in Chiapas, Mexico! Loaded with sermons, computers, and projectors the team went. Learning a new sermon each day, enduring the temperatures that contrasted with Michigan's cool summer, and persevering in the obstacles that Satan strategically inserted, the 15 evangelists preached on. While standing next to one of them during a baptism at the end of the trip, he was heard to whisper—"It was all worth it." That's it. It was worth it then; it will forever be worth it.

WE KNEW THEN THAT GOD HAD CALLED THIS TEAM OF YOUNG EVANGELISTS TO GIVE THEIR BEST IN CHIAPAS, MEXICO!

Those who live and work in Chiapas weren't the only lives changed. Our lives were changed. Both Elyse Vasquez and Wandile Mthiyane will tell you that we learned to appreciate everything we have and to not allow the circumstances to dictate joy. Mina Baxter speaks for the team—"God has shown me that I have a purpose." Standing with their churches the last Saturday night, every one of us knew that God had been working His purpose in our lives. In the universal, God-sized vision—we knew we had a purpose! ■
