King of Hearts:
CAN YOU FEEL THE LOVE?

WELCOME

to Pioneer

Today I invite you to remember your place in the world. It involves a crown. I'm often so distracted by the immediate that I forget about my crown. In Shakespeare's Henry VI part 3—we find the displaced Henry working through his 'crown' issues:

"My crown is in my heart, not on my head,
Not decked with diamonds and Indian stones;
Nor to be seen: my crown is called content,
A crown it is that seldom kings enjoy"(3.1.62-65).

Is he clear about his place or just coping? Let's be clear. We are the children of Him whose place is "far above all rule and authority and power and dominion" (Ephesians 1:21). Today, let's consider welcoming Him into our hearts, accepting our inheritance as princesses and princes. Our place in the world? We belong to royalty!

REMEMBERING BILLY GRAHAM

(1918-2018)

BY DWIGHT K. NELSON

"Billy Graham, America's Pastor, Has Died" intoned the USA Today headline this morning: "The world's best-known evangelist, the Rev. Billy Graham, has died. He was 99. From the gangly 16-year-old baseball-loving teen who found Christ at a tent revival, Graham went on to become an international media darling, a preacher to a dozen presidents and the voice of solace in times of national heartbreak. He was America's pastor" (www.usatoday.com/story/news/nation/2018/02/21/billy-graham-americas-pastor-has-died/858017001).

It's no secret I have admired Billy Graham throughout my ministry (is there a preacher who hasn't?). I've read his autobiography, Just as I Am. And then on a two-day trip with my mother-in-law sitting beside me, I listened to Cliff Barrow, Graham's longtime evangelistic associate, read the autobiography on tape. Last May Cheryl Logan gave me a book, God in the Garden: The Amazing Story of Billy Graham's First New York Crusade. What a stirring first person account of that historic four-month series in Gotham City! Throw in a couple of John Pollack's biographies of the famous preacher-evangelist and a tour of the amazing Billy Graham Museum Library in Charlotte, North Carolina—and I can testify I've come to know this great man who died peacefully this Wednesday, nine months short of a century on earth.

In May, 1957, Billy Graham wrote in his diary: "Tonight I felt probably the greatest liberty I have felt thus far [in his New York City Madison Square Garden crusade]. I doubt if there is an experience in the world quite like a minister preaching the Gospel and having liberty and power. It is beyond any other human experience. There is nothing more horrible than to preach without liberty and power. I have had ministers tell me that they never had liberty or power in preaching. . . . I think I would leave the pulpit" (God in the Garden 132). How very true!

According to most estimates, Billy Graham through his 417 crusades and music events spoke to more human beings than any other single individual in history (popes and politicians included). In live audiences alone, he preached the gospel to more than 215 million people globally (with 3.2 million people accepting Christ in those crusades). But adding his radio and television broadcasts, Wikipedia calculates "Graham's estimated lifetime audience . . . topped 2.2 billion" (en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Billy\_Graham). No wonder he appeared in Gallup's list of most admired men and women sixty times since 1955, more than any other person in the world.

After reading his autobiography, I jotted down a list of life lessons for me as we counted down to something we called NET98. And I submit this list of lessons as a humble testimony to the influence this godly man has had on my own journey as a preacher (journal entry August 9, 1997):

1. Plunge into challenge no matter how you feel
2. Bathe your campaign in prayer
3. Believe the Bible is God's Word to your world (stupendous mission—Rev 14:6, 7)
4. Surround yourself with a team of honest, devoted spiritual leaders
5. Turn down $$ as sideline—keep all fund-raising accountable
6. Be willing to travel

7. Learn from each new experience and campaign
8. Expect setbacks and failures
9. Expect God to intervene
10. Go for the young
11. Be willing to speak to any group
12. Don't let important messages hold you back from accepting invitations
13. If God could bless Billy [Graham] & Charles [Spurgeon] & [Dwight L] Moody—why couldn't God bless me
14. Think strategically
15. Rally local pastors to your support
16. Don't be afraid of interviews, news conferences and publicity
17. Remember Who called you
18. Remember the message you found is what the world's hungry for
19. Work with a partner and a team—no Lone Rangers
20. Talk boldly—your spirit will follow—EGW
21. Pray—pray—pray
22. Drink warm water—ice water only tightens the throat muscles
23. There is absolutely no need to apologize for the gospel of Jesus Christ in academic settings—the gospel can more than hold its own
24. Jer 29:11 & Is 55:[11]
25. Always preach the cross

A great man has died. But the Christ Billy Graham preached still lives—and still issues today to all who follow Him His compelling imperative: "Go therefore and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all things that I have commanded you; and lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the age" (Matthew 28:19-20).

To which I invite you to respond with me to Jesus, "Here am I—send me." Amen. ■

BY SHERRIE DAVIS

Over ten years ago, three Pioneer Memorial Church employees were looking at ways to share their love of scrapbooking and create an opportunity for women of any faith to get together in addition to the regular Women's Ministry meetings. At that time scrapbooking was a very popular hobby loved by many generations. Over the years we have had women from teenagers to 80-year-old grandmas come and preserve their memories through scrapbooking.

When the group first started we were strictly a scrapbooking group. If you were to walk into one of the meetings now, you would find people documenting their heritage with pictures and documents from past generations or preserving memories of vacations taken or major life events (weddings, births). Other ladies would be sorting pictures to put in future scrapbooks. Others would be making greeting cards to be shared with loved ones and friends, and at least once a year we all make cards to send to those listed on the Family Prayer Needs list. Someone else might be working on a mixed-media project. Therefore, the name of the group changed to Papercrafting Together.

Long-time friendships have formed. Rena Richter, a Canadian "on vacation" while her husband was here studying at the Seminary, heard about Scrapbooking Together from her father-in-law who saw a bulletin announcement. She walked in "late" but felt welcomed. She didn't miss another meeting while she was here. She encouraged the group to meet longer and to have our once-a-year overnight meeting. It was through her connections that we found out about another crafting group that meets in Bridgman. Some of those ladies now attend our Sunday meetings while several of the paper-crafting group attend their gatherings.

There is a core group that meets regularly with others coming and going as their schedule allows. We pray for and encourage each other.

The paper-crafting group meets one Sunday a month for a minimum of 5 hours, but lately has been meeting from 11:00 AM to 5:00 PM. There is no expectation that you must attend the full meeting. You can come for a portion or you can stay for the entire time. Once-a-year, we meet on Saturday night and all day Sunday. The beauty of this is that you can come, set up your work, go home and sleep and come back on Sunday for a full day of crafting. When you arrive you will be asked to put your name in a basket; later, names will be drawn for prizes. Prizes include paper, embellishments, stickers, buttons, etc., most of which have been donated.

Over the years paper-crafting has changed, but our love for sharing our talents and memories hasn't. We welcome everyone from beginners to experts, and love seeing new faces. We pray that God will continue to direct people to our group. ■

GROW Group.*

"POEM: NO WORDS"

Today's offertory seeks to peek into the immensity of the topic of God's love—divine love. It is an organ piece—so how can it be a “poem,” given that it has no words communicated to the listener? One thing that it is not: It is not music that is so specific in its meaning that it will elicit particular words for all listeners, thus forming a collective “poem” of clear meanings to all. No—but it should, if successful, broadly invoke for the aware listener meanings suggestive of its title. What is it about divine love that the music may communicate in this way, through its ethereal and mysterious beginning, songlike continuation, “warm” midsection, rise to a high point, and reflective close? ■

The Lord owns everything. Psalms 50:10, 12 says, "For every animal of the forest is mine, and the cattle on a thousand hills. If I were hungry I would not tell you, for the world is mine, and all that is in it." God is able to support His work without human input but chooses to partner with us in order to impart in us the divine attribute of selfless giving which is a by-product of love. Today it is our privilege to partner with the Lord by helping the Michigan Conference fund evangelism, building programs, camp meeting, Camp Au Sable and education through the Conference advance offering.
