ETAVONER!

PUTTING FIRST THINGS FIRST

WELCOME

to Pioneer

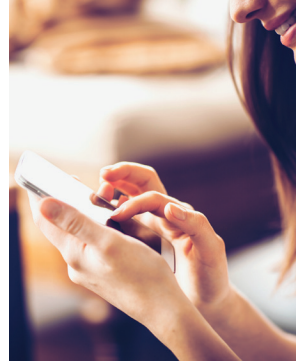

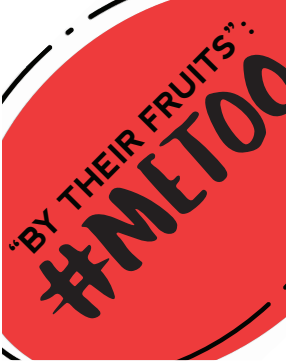

Here we are! We welcome all and especially those who are in their first year as a student at Andrews University. This represents a memorable chapter in your life's story. Before you know it you'll be in the next chapter as you walk down the aisle with a cap and gown to receive recognition for your hard work. Two things you should remember. You don't journey alone, along with the faculty and staff there is a church family that will journey with you to support you, let us know how we can do that best. Also, God is always with you and with that promise God invites us to not be afraid. The road ahead has its bends and turns but we are in the care of the King. And one day we will walk down streets of gold, with a crown on our heads, not because of our work but because of God's big heart demonstrated the gift of Jesus for all. Welcome, may our devotion to our Friend and Saviour grow stronger each day.

Recent national headlines remind us of a well-known horticultural law. And you don't even have to be an "Ag" major to know it—all you need is a fruit tree out back. Because everyone knows you can tell the health of a tree by its fruit. Sick trees produce sickly fruit. Healthy trees bear healthy fruit. And guess what—what's true of a tree is true of a human. You can tell the truth about a person by the kind of fruit that person grows. Horticulture 101. Psychology 101. Spirituality 101.

In the words of Jesus: "Every good tree bears good fruit, but a bad tree bears bad fruit. . . . Thus, by their fruit you will recognize them" (Matthew 7:17, 20).

The #MeToo movement has become a powerful social expression and tool in the hands of those seeking to expose (and even eradicate) sexual harassment and abuse—in the marketplace, in the entertainment industry, in politics, in sports, in the church, in every walk of society and life. And as men of power and of influence have been toppled by the groundswell of painful anger from their victims, the public has drawn courage from the women who have bravely stepped forward to recount their suffering. "How the mighty have fallen!" (2 Samuel 1:19)—the list of names is a veritable Who's Who in American life. "By their fruits you will know them."

Even the political corridors of Washington now echo the click-click of angry high heels stepping forward to expose the abuse they have suffered. A celebrity lawyer pleads guilty to being the conduit of payoff money to women claiming to have had an affair at one time with the lawyer's client. #MeToo is apparently no respecter of persons. "By their fruits you will know them."

And while it could be argued that there is no #MeToo connection with this heartbreaking story, the truth is the grand jury report released last week in Pennsylvania, listing 1000 child victims of 300 priests in that diocese over the past seventy years, is very much the tragic tale of #MeToo suffering at last being exposed for the awful truth it reveals. "By their fruits you will know them." Seventy years of silent suffering at the hands of spiritual leaders can only be measured and requited before Heaven's tribunal. And while some wonder the nature of a religious system that would cover-up the documented suffering of innocent children for so many years—by so many spiritual leaders—the headline at least deserves an attachment to our Lord's somber warning: "By their fruits you will know them.”

“BY THEIR FRUITS”:
#METOO

Furthermore, in a stunning reverse #MeToo moment this week, one of the initial Hollywood female champions of the #MeToo movement has been accused by a young male actor of sexual harassment and coercion against his will in a hotel room years ago. Equal opportunity exposure of an equal opportunity sin. “By their fruits you will know them.”

The heart of Christ still weeps, we can be sure—for untold sufferings in untold places exposing an untoward reality—sickly trees bear sick fruit.

But there is yet hope for both victims and their victimizers. The same Lord who pronounced to the accusers, “He who is without sin—let him cast the first stone,” is the same Savior who promises the accused, “Neither do I condemn you—go now and leave your life of sin” (John 8:7, 11). Keep reading: “As you see the enormity of sin, as you see yourself as you really are, do not give up to despair. It was sinners that Christ came to save. We have not to reconcile God to us, but—O wondrous love!—God in Christ is ‘reconciling the world unto Himself.’ 2 Corinthians 5:19” (Steps to Christ 35).

Turns out the gospel truth of Jesus is the only good news left for sinners such as you and I. For only He can heal our heart of its sickness. And only He can recreate our life to flower with fresh fruit, new fruit, good fruit. And so to His offer to do just that I say we both say, “Me, too.” ■

A CHASIN' OF

BY SHARON TERRELL

Through the years, one of my favorite contemporary gospel composer/singers has been Steve Green, and, on many occasions, I have used songs he has composed and sung in a variety of worship services.

One song is titled, A Chasin' of the Wind, and the lyrics are as follows:

Every heart is filled with longing,
to be free from all life's pain;
Yet the search through earthly pleasures, always ends in vain.
Only God who made the heavens,
can satisfy our souls,
Apart from Him and all His meaning,
all things fail, as they begin;

And hearts deceived can only
know, A Chasin' of the Wind.

All achievements, all possessions,
all with time return to dust;
Only God can be our reason,
for deep and quiet trust.

He will guard us from the dangers,
that gladly make men fools;

Apart from Him and all His meaning, all things fail, as they begin;

And hearts deceived can only
know, A Chasin' of the Wind.

(Steve Green, Composer/Artist; Album: We Believe, released 1992.)

In the parable of the Rich Young

THE WIND

Ruler found in Luke, chapter 12, Jesus warns His listeners to: "Watch out! Be on your guard against all kinds of greed; life does not consist in an abundance of possessions" (Luke 12:15 NIV).

Though we often think of "greed" as the storing up of money and possessions, the definition for "greed" in one dictionary adds another dimension as follows: "An excessive desire to acquire or possess more than what one needs or deserves, especially with respect to material wealth" (Webster's New World Dictionary, p. 278).

The next time you and I are tempted to reward ourselves (because we're worth it, or we deserve it, etc.—we all know the slogans!), let's remember that our responsibility as Christians is to function as good stewards/managers and share what God has given us beyond our needs as He has instructed. For our lives are not about "an abundance of possessions".

To do otherwise is simply "A Chasin' of the Wind." ■

Call to Worship

José Bourget

Make a joyful noise to the Lord, all the land!

Serve the Lord with gladness! Come into his presence with singing!

Know that the Lord is God! It is he that made us, and we are his; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

Give thanks to him, bless his name!

For the Lord is good; his steadfast love endures forever, and his faithfulness to all generations.

Let us worship the name of the Lord.

That is why we never give up. Though our bodies are dying, our spirits are being renewed every day.

For our present troubles are small and won't last very long.
Yet they produce for us a glory that vastly outweighs them and will last forever!

So we don't look at the troubles we can see now; rather, we fix our gaze on things that cannot be seen.

For the things we see now will soon be gone, but the things we cannot see will last forever.

MUSIC ALIVE

"DON'T BE AFRAID"

Felix Mendelssohn composed his huge Elijah, for chorus, soloists, and orchestra, finishing it toward the end of his short life. Today's Worship in Music is excerpted from a chorus (here sung as a quartet). A soprano soloist has just sung, "I am He that comforteth. Be not afraid, for I am thy God! I will strengthen thee! . . ." The singers respond, "Be not afraid . . ." Then Elijah is told that the threatening news that Jezebel said, "Elijah is worthy to die." After more disturbing news, Elijah sings, "It is enough! ○ Lord, now take away my life, . . .", after which follow in the music many assurances of God's protection and care. At this time of beginnings, may we respond to God's "Be not afraid" message with gratitude and faith, for He is faithful. ■

Teamwork. That's what has made it possible for a special young lady to attend Great Lakes Adventist Academy (GLAA). Last year, the church where she lived saw potential in her and rallied to make it possible for her to enroll at GLAA. She jumped at the chance to go to a boarding school, little realizing the impact it would make on her life. She grew spiritually by leaps and bounds her first year and was baptized at the end of the year as a member of the local church. What helped make all this possible? MAP funds and the three-way matching program called Project Assist. It's people like you who give to MAP that make these stories happen.
