THE PUGWASH FACTOR

HOW TO TURN MISSION INTO POSSIBLE

WELCOME BACK!

We want to extend a very special welcome back to all of our students. Can you believe that the summer is gone already? Some went to work at summer camps. Some went home to their families or other jobs. To those—welcome back!

But maybe you're here for the first time today. Through a handshake, hug, or a smile, we hope you'll feel welcomed. So from our family to yours—whether you're here for the first time, or are back after a long summer—we're glad you're here. We hope you'll experience God's love in a special way today. —Rodlie Ortiz

“THE PUGWASH FACTOR”

BY DWIGHT K. NELSON

Ever heard of Pugwash? I hadn't either, until we ended up there this summer after a very long north-easterly drive from Berrien Springs (1500+ miles). Turns out Pugwash is a small town in Nova Scotia, on the far eastern side of Canada and perched on the red clay shores of the Northumberland Strait. Its more famous neighbor across the strait is Prince Edward Island, the home of the fabled “Anne of Green Gables” (that’s “Anne with an e”)—Lucy Maud Montgomery’s heart-tugging story of a spunky red-headed orphan who for a century now has captured the hearts of women young and old (and, not a few men as well). After spending a few days on that beautiful island province, Karen and I drove to Pugwash for the Maritime Conference camp meeting at their picturesque summer camp along the strait. The old timers told us about the time the evangelist Ron Halvorsen visited that camp meeting. Asked at the Canadian border where he was headed, he replied, “Hogwash, Nova Scotia” (an unfortunate turn of a word!).

But what really put the obscure village of Pugwash on the global map was a series of conversations by the world’s scientific community in the early 1950s.

The horrific nuclear destruction—unleashed by the twin atomic bombs that obliterated the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki and hastened the end to World War II in August, 1945—raised a deeply troubling angst among thinkers in both the West and East. Was human civilization poised on the brink of nuclear self-annihilation? What guarantees could governments provide to contain nuclear proliferation? Knowing what they now knew, should this community of thinkers remain silent in the face of the end?

Three days before his death on April 18, 1955, American scientist Albert Einstein joined British philosopher Bertrand Russell in signing the Russell-Einstein

Participants in the First Pugwash Conference (1957, Pugwash, Nova Scotia, Canada)

Manifesto: “The prospect for the human race is sombre beyond all precedent. Mankind are faced with a clear-cut alternative: either we shall all perish, or we shall have to acquire some slight degree of common sense. A great deal of new political thinking will be necessary if utter disaster is to be averted.” (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Russell%E2%80%93Einstein\_Manifesto)

Two years later in July, 1957, at the village of Pugwash 22 scientists, including ten Nobel Laureates, gathered to ponder how to avert the Cold War’s threat of nuclear obliteration and forge a plan for global peace. But more than a half century later peace is still illusive. And the Pugwash Conferences continue.

Given the escalating turmoil of this age, how shall the followers of Christ live? Knowing what they know about the future and His return, how should they communicate to their world? What should they say? Should this community of thinkers remain silent in the face of the end?

Call it the “Pugwash Factor”*—a series of reflections this fall at Andrews

University’s Pioneer Memorial Church, Saturday mornings. Because if those who know do not act or speak up, the planet is doomed. ■

JESUS IS IMPORTANT

*“Without faith it’s impossible to please God because anyone who comes to Him must believe that He exists and that He rewards those who earnestly seek Him.”
(Hebrews 11:6)*

BY NEPHTALIE EUGENE

“Why is it important that college students have a close relationship with Jesus?”

If I had been asked that question my freshman year, my response would have been a vague, “because college students need Jesus in order to be successful in college.”

However as a senior, I realize that there is so much more to it than that. I know now that having a relationship with Jesus should not only focus on what He can do for me, but mostly on my willingness to be obedient to Him. The reward is so much greater, simply because I get to experience the depth of His affection in an intimate and personal way.

The first reason that I think we, as students, need a personal relationship with Jesus is that during college a lot of people struggle with identity and finding their purpose in life. Oftentimes, our identity is influenced by what we believe the most important people in our lives think of us. This is why college students must make sure that Jesus is the most important person in their lives—because He will love them unconditionally.

The second reason is to help grow our faith. Jesus is the focus of our faith, reliance and hope. “Without faith it’s im- possible to please God because anyone who comes to Him must believe that He exists and that He rewards those who earnestly seek Him” (Hebrews 11:6).

Being full of faith is one thing; however, it’s not just about saying we believe—we have to actually do something to show how much we believe. Seeking a closer relationship with Jesus is one of the many ways that we can apply our faith.

In my humble opinion, I truly believe that nothing is more valuable than knowing God. Things may get hard or lonely throughout the journey. And others may persuade you to search for wisdom elsewhere, but there is only one Source of ultimate truth. Jesus patiently waits to reveal Himself to you. ■

IN MY HUMBLE OPINION, I TRULY BELIEVE THAT NOTHING IS MORE VALUABLE THAN KNOWING GOD.

MUSIC ALIVE

ENGAGE GLOBALLY...EUROPE

Today Andrews University Singers sing music with European roots, in highly contrasting styles. Opening music "Stani Nine Gospodine" has traditional Bulgarian roots. Adela Peeva's arrangement blends prominent rhythm with traditional choral textures, perhaps inviting some improvisation much as would have accompanied the original traditional Bulgarian melody. The text includes an announcement of bringing good news. German composer Johannes Brahms' "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place" relates closely to text from Psalm 84, to be understood in a broader biblical context: "How amiable are Your tabernacles, O Lord of hosts! My soul longs, yes, even faints for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh cry out for the living God. . . . Blessed are they who dwell in Your house: they will be still praising You." ■

Sabbath dinner under the trees—it doesn't get any better than what we enjoyed last weekend in our new student welcome dinner. We thank all the 75 families who provided a home-cooked meal for our nearly 750 diners at tables spread between Pioneer and the theological seminary. Those who are asking if we could do this every week might be onto something! Blessings to all whose hard work made the dinner possible.

FUNDING OUR STUDENTS

BY JIM FORD

School bells are ringing again across our campuses. This is an exciting time of year with new adventures and new friends. But it can also be a painful time as families' debate, wish, and stretch to try to afford Christian education for their children. In case you didn't know, tuition at Ruth Murdoch is around $4,000 a year and at the Academy it is more than $8,000. These are very big numbers and very large hurdles for many of our families at Pioneer. Student loans are not available for below college-level education. What are families to do?

Parents can work with the schools which have some tuition assistance available. PMC also has an application process for members with children at RMES or AA to request Student Aid money. The process flows through the PMC Student Aid Committee which works closely with school personnel to allocate the funds you donate. This committee has the task of deciding in the summer how much money Pioneer members and friends will donate over the course of the next 12 months for the Student Aid Fund. We allocate, in faith, this money to those who apply for assistance hoping you come through as you have in the past.

The committee has met twice this summer and allocated $57,645 divided among 89 students. These are 89 students who may not have been in Christian education without you. There are certainly many students who would love to be at RMES or AA this year, but their families didn't see how it could happen so they never even tried. RMES and AA have the space for more young people. Wouldn't it be nice to see the schools literally full with many more young people enjoying a spiritual and moral environment where they are led daily into a relationship with Jesus that will fit them to be of service to God and the world.

Please help by continuing to give to the Student Aid fund. Thank you! ■
