"WILL YOU BE MINE?"

I know it isn't a church holiday, but when we were kids, giving each other those little red and pink cards on Valentine's Day was a favorite pastime. I don't suppose we ever really figured out the meaning of that innocuously short query that we scribbled in third grade penmanship on those floppy heart-shaped cut-outs. Nevertheless we handed it out to all our friends at school: "Will you be mine?"

It's the call of the divine heart, is it not? "Will you be Mine?" asks the God of the universe who for millennia now has been desperately trying to win back the hearts of a runaway and rebel race. "Will you be Mine?" Why it's as if all the children God already has around his dinner table in heaven aren't

UNITED PRAYER

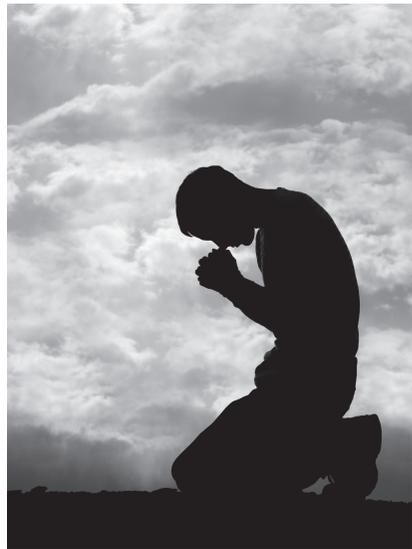

Monday to Thursday

12:30-1:00 PM // PMC Sanctuary

SWEET PRESENCE

"If we keep the Lord ever before us, allowing our hearts to go out in thanksgiving and praise to Him, we shall have a continual freshness in our religious life. Our prayers will take the form of a conversation with God as we would talk with a friend. He will speak His mysteries to us personally. Often there will come to us a sweet joyful sense of the presence of Jesus. Often our hearts will burn within us as He draws nigh to commune with us as He did with Enoch. When this is in truth the experience of the Christian, there is, seen in his life a simplicity, a humility, meekness, and lowliness of heart, that shows to all with whom he associates that he has been with Jesus and learned of Him."

Christ's Object Lessons, 129,130.

Do you have a prayer request you would like the prayer team to lift up to God this week?

MASTER PLAN OF EVANGELISM

IPERCEIVE: A FUTURE YOU CAN COUNT ON

Last night was opening night for the “iPerceive: A Future You Can Count On” evangelistic series at the South Bend First Seventh-day Adventist Church at 1936 Altgeld in Indiana. Pastor Dwight Nelson is preaching from 7:00-8:15 every night for this series through February 19 as a follow up to the New Perceptions telecast that has been airing throughout Michiana for the past several years on WHME from South Bend every Sunday at noon and midnight. Since this article went to press two days ago, we do not have a report on opening night’s attendance, but we will provide a report in the worship service this morning.

If you have non-member friends/contacts in the South Bend area, this would be an excellent opportunity to invite them to a program that would enable them to meet your pastor personally and to hear a biblical perspective on topics that are vital to this generation in light of the uncertainty of the times we live in today. The nightly messages are filled with up-to-date references to events transpiring in our world that impact our personal lives, and insights from the timeless messages of the Bible that speak directly to those issues. The landmark beliefs of the Seventh-day Adventist Church become more relevant with each passing year and each late-breaking news release.

If you have volunteered to help with this series and need a ride or could provide a ride, please meet at the awning entrance to the church each evening by 5:40.

Thank you for keeping these meetings in prayer throughout this week, and for your continuing financial support of MPE (line 5) which make such ministries possible.

PRAY

Daily for these meetings—for Pastor Dwight as speaker and those attending

VISITOR'S DINNER \ HOSPITALITY PLUS

Almost every Sabbath of the year, you can smell the wonderful aroma of a home cooked meal wafting up the stairwell at PMC after second service. This is the work of our Visitor's Fellowship Dinner Ministry, a group that loves to meet and greet visitors to our church. On a typical Sabbath, between 25 to 50 guests find their way down to our commons for this special meal. It's so much fun to talk with them, get to know their stories and share His story. Some come as a result of our television ministry; others are passing through or here to visit someone in the community. Whatever, the case they are welcome to "come and rest awhile".

It takes a lot of planning to make this dinner happen – actually many teams of about fifteen members.

Each team serves once or twice a year. Some on the team like to cook; others choose to set up, serve, greet or do the clean up. All of them are interested in showing hospitality to our guests. In the process, they get to know each other better and have a good time.

If you are not currently on a fellowship dinner team, there is still opportunity for you to join. Many hands make light work! Call and join us. The rewards are many. You will not regret your decision.

PRAY

That more of our members will join this ministry and share the blessings

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

RMES \ MARK YOUR CALENDAR

Meeting a new teacher, sitting in a different desk, making new friends, exploring an unknown part of the school. These are all things that can be a little intimidating for new students. But don't worry -that's why we have "RMES Visitor's Day!"

Visitor's Day at Ruth Murdoch Elementary School is a chance for students to come and explore our school, learn about our teachers, and have fun!

This is a very important day to our current students, and potential RMES families. For families that are new to the Adventist school system, or even to our faith, it's an opportunity to see what an Adventist educational atmosphere is all about.

Keep Visitor's Day, March 8th, in your prayers as new families enter our building, that they may see Him through the kindness of our students, and through the character of our teachers.

PRAY

That God will bring many families to our Visitor's Day and that they will see Jesus here enough—as if he'll never be really, truly happy and contented until we say "yes" and come and join him, too. "Will you be Mine?"

When I fell in love with Karen, before I'd even gotten to know her, it was the utter pre-occupation of my teenage heart to get her attention. I knew each day that as I headed for the cafeteria at SMC ("Southern Matrimonial College"), she'd be coming out of one of her nursing classes and I could pass her on the sidewalk. And so every day, in one of those foolish (but effective) teenage rituals, I'd drop my head when I spotted her and pretend to be deep in thought while staring at the sidewalk in front of me, but all the while maneuvering my steps so that I would practically run straight into her. Then there'd be the burst of laughter, the quick apology about "not" seeing her there, and with her face fresh in mind I'd be on my way. Who can know "the way of a man with a maiden" (Proverbs 30:19 NIV)?

But then, the ways of Love divine are as inexplicable at times, aren't they? Explain to the rest of us, please, the compelling passion that drives a God from his great white throne to our dark, fallen earth, all for what? That we might be granted the chance to cry at the top of our lungs, "We have no king but Caesar"? And with that ugly refrain repeating inside of him, this rejected God stumbles on to the place of his execution. And as they stretch out his naked frame and pin him to that stake, with every thud of the mallet upon those nails, the question he came to earth to ask is hammered out: "Will you be Mine?"

"For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life" (John 3:16). On Valentine's Day it will be this story that I will be sharing. Join us at "iPerceive" in South Bend (7 p.m.). Pray for me and us right now, so that God's "Will you be Mine?" will be an arrow through every listening heart.

CALL TO WORSHIP

We come together in rejoicing.

We rejoice in the truth of God, which sets us free.

We rejoice in the peace of God, which promises calm.

We rejoice in the love of God, which brings the security of belonging.

We come together to rejoice.

THE WORD

ROMANS 8:35-39 NKJV

Who shall separate us from the love of Christ? Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or peril, or sword?

Yet in all these things we are more than conquerors through Him who loved us.

For I am persuaded that neither death nor life, nor angels nor principalities nor powers, nor things present nor things to come, nor height nor depth, nor any other created thing, shall be able to separate us from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus our Lord.

MUSIC ALIVE

TAKE MY HAND

“Precious Lord, Take My Hand” stems from a real-life tragedy. Growing up in Georgia as a minister’s son, Thomas Dorsey later drifted away from God. But through seemingly miraculous sparing in scrapes with death, he returned to his religious roots. Once during a revival meeting in St. Louis, a telegram informed him that his wife and newborn son had both died. In his grief, he said, “God, you aren’t worth a dime to me right now!” But a few weeks later Dorsey created “Precious Lord,” including its memorable lines “through the storm, through the night.” The following Sunday the choir sang it, fitted as it was to a familiar tune, at Ebenezer Baptist Church in South Chicago. Dorsey once said, “I try to lift [people’s] spirits and let them know that God still loves them.”

WE MOURN

Today we mourn with three families that have lost loved ones. Diane Barnum's mother and Lisa Jardine's grandmother, Marian Lewis, died on February 3 in Freeport, Maine. Her funeral was held here last Sabbath. We remember Glynn Scott whose father, Maxwell Joseph Scott, died last week in Bermuda. A service was held there on Sunday. And we remember Sue Schwab and her family on the death of her brother, Alan Ruggles. Arrangements are pending at this time. With all of these families we look forward to resurrection morning. "Even so, Come Lord Jesus."

SPIRITUAL PARENTING

WORSHIPING GOD AT CHURCH WITH YOUR KIDS

Worshiping God at church with your kids in tow is definitely challenging. Have you ever been tempted to say, "It's not worth it - we'll just listen on the radio or watch service on live stream or on TV"? Reject that thought and ask God to help you. It's definitely worth it in the long haul, even though each week may be a struggle just to get there.

Why do Adventists encourage families to take their kids to church? So children, from infancy, can experience something of the awe of the Divine and the presence of the Holy Spirit; so children will gradually learn what worship means and how to worship God at church; so the experience of worshiping God at church will become an indispensable part of a child's spiritual self; and so families can worship God together.

How can you help your children learn to worship God at church joyfully and eagerly each week?

Be prepared. During the week prepare your "church tote". Into the tote stash away a few interesting, noiseless, and spiritually focused (if possible) things to help church be more interesting for your child. Don't let your child see any of these things during the week. They are special for church.

For babies and toddlers, include a soft cuddly toy animal, a chewing ring, a cloth picture book about a religious topic, a cloth handkerchief, and a receiving blanket. Don't put these things in a diaper bag, but use a special tote for Sabbath. Then it's ready to just grab as you leave for church.

For older preschoolers, put in a Sabbath picture book, perhaps crayons and a religious coloring book, a cloth handkerchief, and maybe a small doll or animal or a very small felt board and some felt objects. Everything should be noiseless.

Always remember the goal: To help your child experience God and the Holy Spirit at church so she becomes an active participant in the worship service.

Be sure your little child gets some active time and a snack (if needed) before going into church. It's part of being prepared. Pick up a church-time bag of activities at the Children's Lending Library at the Visitor's Desk in the front foyer of the church or a children's bulletin with religious pen-and-pencil activities at any entrance. There's one for younger children and one for older kids.

Be engaged. Take advantage of every opportunity to get your child engaged in the church service. Most kids experience the awesomeness of God and a sense of reverence through the music at church. Many Toddlers and Two's are attracted to the organ, the singing, and the other musical instruments. They'll stand up, pay attention, and even sway to the music. Encourage Mr. Four and Miss Five to sing the songs and hymns. Point to each word in the hymnal as you sing. Soon they will learn the tunes and sing praises to God.

Help your child collect the children's offering. Be part of the children's story. Kneel or stand to pray. Stand to sing (or be held in your arms.) Put in his own offering. Find Bible verses in her own Bible, or help you find the verse in your Bible while cuddling on your lap. It's important to make this connection with the Bible.

Miss Five can also begin to listen to the sermon. Select a key word the pastor probably will say many times during the sermon. Print it at the top of a piece of paper and give Miss Five a fat pencil so she can make a mark every time the minister says this key word. Soon she will learn to listen.

If there is nothing going on that your child can be engaged in, then bring out only one of the objects in your tote or church-time bag, or a children's bulletin. Never bring out everything at once. This creates restlessness and a "this-is-play-time" attitude.

Next time we'll continue with more ideas for worshiping God at church. In the meantime, get your Sabbath tote bag ready, be prepared and be engaged.

"Serve the Lord with gladness; Come before His presence with singing. . . Enter into His gates with thanksgiving and into His courts with praise."
