WELCOME!

Welcome to our springtime celebration of the cross! What better way to commence our voyage into this season of new life and new hope than to gather at the nail-scarred feet of the living Christ. Welcome to our visitors and guests and friends who join us for this high and joyous worship. From wherever you've come, we're simply glad you came. And we hope that in these worship moments with Jesus, your heart and life will receive from God the very gifts you need for the journey ahead. Join us for a home cooked vegetarian meal following second service in the Commons.

O GOD, JAPAN!

The 9.0 magnitude earthquake and thirty-foot tsunami that decimated northeastern Japan's coastal cities (just as spring break began here on campus) is not only the sixth strongest quake on global record, but is also the most costly natural disaster in earth's history. However, it is the human toll that has broken our collective heart.

Born to missionary parents in Tokyo and having spent the first 14 years of my life in the Land of the Rising Sun, I have felt the anguish of displaced Japanese who from afar have wept over the numbing television and computer screen images streaming out of the devastation. Haven't you cried, too? How can we not, when this land of stalwart, industrious, orderly, polite and gracious almost to a fault people collectively cry out to

FAITH IN PRAYER

“For the praying saints of the past, their faith in prayer was not a passing attitude that changed with the wind or with their own feelings and circumstances, they were confident that God always heard and answered, that His ear was always open to the cry of His children, and that the power to do what was asked of Him was equal to His willingness.... Everything was possible to the men and women who knew how to pray, and it is still possible today. Prayer, indeed, opened a limitless storehouse, and God’s hand withheld nothing. Prayer introduced those who practiced it into a world of privilege, and brought the strength and wealth of heaven down to the aid of finite man. What rich and wonderful power they had who learned the secret of vic-

If you would like to receive special prayer after 1st service today or to share a specific request, please feel free to come to the Prayer Room (glass windows, piano side). The entrance is on the left as you exit the sanctuary towards the Youth Chapel.

CHILDREN \ MAKING A DECISION FOR CHRIST

It's true, just like my mom and probably your mom said, there are two decisions in this life that you cannot risk to go wrong on – who you are going to marry and deciding to give your life to Jesus. Because of this, the passion of the children's and youth ministries here at Pioneer is to establish a culture for spiritual decisions. So above the normal superb programming, baptismal classes have been established that will run from mid-fall to mid-spring every year. Because the goal is both to prepare the young for baptism and prepare them for making the decision, even those who are "too young" to be baptized can enroll and attend. This school year's classes are just coming to a close and dates for the baptisms are being set. The five fantastic classes did very well, and Pastor Morrison proudly reflected that the students have "vastly changed or are changing from the way they were when the classes started last fall." Week after week the young were committed to following through with their lessons – along with committing personal time with God and His word. For the pastors, it is a privilege to work with these young people who are dedicated to giving Jesus all they have.

CMRC \ QUIET BUT ESSENTIAL

What do you think of when you hear the word ministry? Do you think of pastors and missionaries? Or maybe giving Bible studies and seminars? What about teaching Sabbath School or working at the soup kitchen? Ministry takes many forms. The possibilities are endless!

But can you think of one type of ministry needed by all? A provider of resources. That's where the PMC Children's Ministry Resource Center(CMRC) enters the picture.

An active, robust ministry, the CMRC buzzes with activity on Sabbath mornings, supported by a volunteer staff dedicated to serve the needs of multiple ministries. And this all takes place within the confines of one small basement room of the church.

Cases in point—a university student drops by to obtain ideas and materials to be used for the Benton Harbor ministry; an international student returning to his or her country drops by to receive materials for use in the home country; Sabbath School and Adventurer leaders stop by to borrow props for a lesson, a costume for an activity, or supplies for an object lesson. The Resource Center provides a home base for resources used by multiple areas of ministry.

That God will continue to bless our many ministries that reach out to children

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

ANDREWS ACADEMY \ CHANGE IS GOOD

Many families are finding it increasingly difficult to afford high-quality, Adventist education. Andrews Academy is doing something about that! Just this month, AA has rolled out a new financial aid plan which combines need-based aid with merit-based scholarships. In 2011-12, Andrews Academy will more than double the amount of money dedicated to the financial support of its students. As a result, virtually all students will pay less to attend Andrews Academy next year!

This is not a case where a student will pay less and receive less. Andrews Academy is investing in the future and is committed to strengthening the Andrews Academy experience. This financial package change and all changes at AA are being undertaken with the support and encouragement of Andrews Academy's new principal, Bob Overstreet. Principal Overstreet will be moving with his family from Florida to Berrien Springs in June.

"To Restore in Man the Image of His Maker is the Object of Education." We must not change for change's sake, but rather for the noble purpose of sharing and reflecting God's love.

For more information about Andrews Academy or its financial aid plan, go to www.andrews.edu/aa.

their gods—to anyone who will listen, really—their unabashed pain and sorrow? In California last week with my mother, I stared at the black and white front page newspaper photograph of a Japanese woman sobbing over the lifeless hand of her mother, protruding from the tsunami wreckage of what was once their home. Doesn't God weep with those who do?

What can we do, we who returned rested from our break to face the glory and joys of a new springtime across this campus? We must do something, mustn't we—if we would not fall victim to what psychologists describe as “frozen emotions,” deep feelings prompted by television images, but never acted upon?

You may give on two fronts. ADRA International (the Adventist Development and Relief Agency, now headed by our own Rudi Maier) has mobilized its disaster response team in Japan to the crisis centers. ADRA Japan is coordinating its relief efforts in evacuation centers with the Japanese Department of Social Services. You can make your gift, as I did, at www.adra.org. Just click onto the “Japan Quake” banner when it appears and follow the simple directions. If you prefer to talk with an ADRA representative, you may call 1-800-424-ADRA.

A second front of this disaster is the damage sustained by our church in Japan. If you would like to contribute to the church's rebuilding efforts, you may send your gift to the North American Division of Seventh-day Adventists electronically at <https://appeal.nadadventist.org/Japan>, or you may make your check payable to: North American Division, Attn: 2011 Japanese Earthquake/Tsunami Fund, 12501 Old Columbia Pike, Silver Spring, MD 20904.

But there is a third way we must all respond. It is the simple prayer, “O God, Japan!” One hundred-sixteen million people—who celebrate births and marriages with a Shinto priest (the unique Japanese religion of animism, praying to the spirits of the deceased) and who are buried by a Buddhist priest, but who are otherwise secular and without religion or faith—surely the Savior of this world longs to break through to this people where only one half of 1% are Christians. “O God, Japan!”

Won't you join me in claiming this promise for the Land of the Rising Sun? “But to you who fear My name the Sun of Righteousness shall arise with healing in His wings” (Malachi 4:2). Isn't that incredible? Could it become a prophecy that one day the Land of the Rising Sun will truly become that—the land upon which the Sun of Righteousness will shine down his healing grace and saving power? “O God, Japan!” We must pray. And we must go.

SUFFERING SERVANT

“To the suffering face of Christ” read the translation in an early source. In fact, the ten stanzas for the days of Holy Week (as the week immediately preceding Easter is known) formed a poem in seven parts by Bernard of Clairvaux (1091-1153). Each lengthy part was addressed to a different part of Christ’s physical body. The title of today’s organ voluntary reflects one of these aspects:

“O Head Full of Blood and Wounds” (“O Sacred Head Now Wounded”). The original parts in Bernard’s text contemplated Christ’s breast, face, feet, hands, heart, knees, and side. The hymn’s well-known melody, PASSION CHORALE, is emotively set for organ by Paul Claussnitzer, here with a literal translation grafted in to serve as its pathos-laden title.

ADOPT-A-SCENE

The Easter Passion Play team would like to challenge your church ministry and family to adopt-a-scene and be in charge of organizing a crew to take it down and pack it up. We REALLY need your help with this, as the students on campus will be busily studying for final exams that start the next day.

We are asking our community to please step in and help us make this event a success.

If you know of anyone willing to participate, please let us know.

Every time we celebrate the cross, we give a special offering of gratitude to aid families in crisis. Because of our extensive work in Benton Harbor and the fact that many PMC families are struggling as a result of our present economic challenges, we need to replenish this fund which provides help in emergency situations. So today, thank you in advance for giving an extra "love offering" for your neighbors in need twelve miles up the road and those right here at home.

"ALWAYS MY CHILD"

"Always My Child" Seminar will be held Friday evening (7:00-8:45) and Sabbath (3:00-5:00 & 6:45-8:45 PM) April 8 & 9. This seminar, presented by Winston Ferris, will focus on the rights parents have to stand before God for their children, especially those who choose a path different from what was anticipated. Registration forms are available at PMC and by contacting Liz Beck at 269.325.0668. There is a fee for materials. Sponsored by the Family Life Committee.

SANCTUARY SS

There will be a panel discussion for the lesson study on Sabbath, April 2, International Student Sabbath.

HOUSE OF PRAYER

WEDNESDAY @ 7 PM, SANCTUARY

What did Ellen White really have to say about revival and reformation? Do you know the difference between a true revival and a counterfeit revival? Is there such a thing as personal revival and what does it look like? These and other questions will be explored as we join Katrina Blue in this new in-depth series based on Ellen White's new compilation, True Revival: The Church's Greatest Need. You may receive a free copy of this book when you attend House of Prayer this Wednesday evening. (One per family, please.) Join us as together we explore what it means to see the Seventh-day Adventist Church truly revived! Wednesday at 7 PM in the Pioneer sanctuary. Co-curricular credit for university students.
