DRIP, DRIP, DRIP

Drip, drip, drip. There are two ways to empty a tankful of water. You can crank open the faucet and let the water flow. Or—and this method is much slower, but just as effective—you can let the faucet drip one drop at a time. Either way the tank will eventually empty.

Two government disclosures this week—one from the IRS and the other from the Justice Department—are a reminder that the prized civil liberties upon which this nation was founded can also be emptied by the perennial drip, drip, drip of freedom leakage. Somebody within the Internal Revenue Service decided that any organization with "Tea Party" or "Patriot" in its name deserved extra scrutiny before being granted tax-exempt status. I.e., right-leaning political organizations were to receive this more stringent examination, all the while moderate

REVIVAL & REFORMATION

IN GOD'S TIME

The following testimony from a member at PMC is about a gift from God through answered prayer. May anyone going through a job crisis of any kind find comfort in this recent example of God's care.

"As you know, countless folks are struggling due to a bad economy, which has crippled the job market. Millions are seeking jobs, or are in need of improved employment. My employment crisis was impossible to solve for several reasons. For example, my industry was flattened and my corporation sold. Job applicants younger than I and with less experience were given the positions that I sought. Hiring managers told me that my professional accomplishments made it too difficult for them to hire me. They incorrectly believed that I would not remain with them if placed in a position lower than the one I left. Further, the niche market that I had serviced was crushed, and my expertise was no longer needed.

"For two years, I was 'on the street' and deprived of my career. It was an incredible loss. I feared that my years of education, expertise, and saving would all be lost. I wondered if God was trying to teach me something. Was it possible that I had become materialistic when things were going my way? Had my successes lulled me into a false sense of security? I resolved that whatever happened, I would rededicate myself to the Lord.

"During the crisis, I claimed God's promises. I told Him that He had always '...opened the windows of heaven and poured out a blessing' (Malachi 3:10). In my struggle, I reminded Him, 'They that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings like eagles ...' (Isaiah 40:31).

"And what a gift God gave! When I was nearly overwhelmed by my great need, He did open the 'windows of heaven' and poured out a blessing. He graciously provided a better position than the one I had lost, despite all the odds against it happening. Exactly 24 months to the day after leaving my previous post, I entered the new one. It really was a miracle!" -Anonymous

Please pray:

- For those around us who are seeking employment, many of whom we may not be aware. That through the story of Esther, we have the eyes of faith to believe that God has been and is working, to solve all our problems even before we had the need.
- For our graduates, who are also looking for work so they can provide for themselves and to give back to the God they love.
- For all our students, that they will see the providence of God working to solve every employment and financial petition.

N2N / THE EMERGENCY FOOD PANTRY

It's sad, but true that in America not having access to enough food to sustain a healthy life is a reality for many people. According to the Feeding America website, one out of six Americans, including children and seniors, are hungry.

Sharon Pickell at N2N's Emergency Food Pantry meets people every week who are in challenging situations. They have been referred to N2N and, upon arrival, are interviewed by student interns from the Department of Social Work at AU to determine their needs. Clients with food needs are directed to Sharon to choose items that will nourish their families.

About 40 families a month receive food from the Pantry. They come from all over Berrien County. Sharon does the shopping to fill the shelves and makes her purchases at Feeding America's West Michigan Food Bank and area grocery stores. Cost of food averages $1,800 a month and is paid for by sales from the Thrift Store.

Twice a year the Pantry gets an extra boost. The first event is in May—the mail carriers' Stamp Out Hunger Food Drive. That is when residents put bags of non-perishables by their mailbox to be picked up by the mail carrier. Half of what is collected in the 49103 area is given to N2N Emergency Food Pantry.

The second big event is done through Apple Valley Market in the fall/winter. Customers fill out a form to purchase cases of food for the Pantry at reduced prices and pay for it at the checkout. Then Apple Valley graciously delivers these items right to N2N.

Isaiah 58:10 (GNT) says that "if you give food to the hungry...then the darkness around you will turn to the brightness of noon." We praise God that N2N is spreading light in our community.

MASTER PLAN OF EVANGELISM

MPE / FEED MY SHEEP

Earlier this school year at Evangelism Council, Evan Knott, student Vice President for Spiritual Life, shared about one of the needs he had discovered on campus. It seems many students begin to run out of money on their cafeteria accounts near the end of the semester. As a result, some are skipping meals. Evan suggested a soup night to feed the students.

On April 22, an email was sent to the PMC congregation asking them to help feed 'our' Andrews students. Over the next two weeks, 32 pots of soup were promised and a number of people volunteered to bring bread, peanut butter, and jelly. A green salad was purchased from Caitlan's Cafe.

On Tuesday, April 30 at 6 PM, students started going through the line in the Commons. They enjoyed a variety of homemade soup: minestrone, chili, lentil, potato, and potato cabbage. Those waiting in line were also attracted to the smell of freshly baked chocolate chip cookies—which disappeared very quickly. Volunteers helped keep the food tables stocked and enjoyed visiting with the students. A number of students came back for seconds and thirds. Take-out containers were furnished for those who couldn't stay or wanted to take soup home for a future meal. We heard a lot of "thank you's" and "this is so good." In total, we served close to 300 students. Thank you to those who helped show love and support to our students.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

RMES / WE APPRECIATE OUR TEACHERS

Henry Adams said that a teacher affects eternity; he never knows where his influence will stop. Teachers work long hours and try to perform an entertaining and thought-provoking one-man-show several times a day to the exact same audience. They plan interesting hands-on activities, organize field trips, show interest in several personal stories involving pets or this morning's ride to school, stay after school every day to complete grading assignments, and create new fabulous bulletin boards! Whew! That's a lot for anyone to do with enthusiasm and success. Luckily our RMES teachers are up for the challenge day after day.

Ruth Murdoch Elementary School celebrated Teacher Appreciation Week the first week of May. We know that our teachers deserve a special week in their honor for their unending efforts and love for teaching.

To celebrate this special week, the RMES Home & School Association coordinated parents, volunteers, the school board, and others to provide a delicious breakfast and lunch for teachers each day. Our administration created a big colorful display in the school's front lobby where students, parents, fellow teachers and friends could show their appreciation by writing small notes to their teachers.

Parents and students also recognized their teachers by bringing various gifts each day. Some teachers received cards, plants, and candy!

Though there is a special week to show our appreciation for the amazing work that our teachers do, let's all remember the important role that teachers play in the lives of our young students. Let a teacher know that you appreciate them today!

and left-leaning organizations were left alone. While I am not a supporter of any political organization—right, middle or left—nevertheless I was astounded that in a nation that cherishes its right to independence from mainstream opinions such a blatant discriminatory action of government is possible!

Then a few days later we learned that the phone records of the news organization, the Associated Press, were secretly examined by the Justice Department of our national government without ever informing the AP organization of its investigation. Purportedly the government was concerned about news leaks regarding the CIA's clandestine efforts in Yemen to thwart another airline bombing. I.e., for the sake of presumed national security, the civil liberty of freedom of press can be breached with no disclosure at all. Again, political alliances notwithstanding, since when does this nation's government have the power to abrogate the constitutional rights of its citizens and organizations, irrespective of security demands?

Drip, drip, drip. One more reminder that the apocalyptic scenario predicted in Revelation 13 is losing its improbability one drip at a time. "Blessed is the one who stays awake" (Revelation 16:15). A red-letter admonition near the end of time and Scripture for this generation. Because one day we will awaken only to discover that the tank has been emptied. One drip at a time.

But the notion of "drip" isn't entirely negative. Because in the metaphors of Scripture even a drip portends water, and outpouring water is God's favorite descriptor of His outpouring Spirit. "For I will pour out water on the thirsty land and streams on the dry ground; I will pour out My Spirit on your offspring and My blessing on your descendants" (Isaiah 44:3). But have we become satisfied with just a drip, when in fact God is offering the torrential outpouring of the Holy Spirit?

That's why we've chosen as a university congregation to consider the ninety days between us and the advent of another new school year to be a critical "preseason of prayer." And so we are pledging ourselves to pray every day between now and the new year for God to fulfill His promise, "I will do a new thing" (Isaiah 43:19). No longer can we be satisfied with the interminable drip, drip of "the old thing." We desperately need the promised outpouring of the Holy Spirit on this university. Rearranging the furniture or new wallpaper will never slake our thirst or fulfill our mission. "I will do a new thing and pour out My Spirit on those who are thirsty." Then why wouldn't our prayers for that thirst and His promise be our #1 priority this summer?

But forget all that—it is nothing compared to what I am going to do.

For I am about to do something new. See, I have already begun! Do you not see it? I will make a pathway through the wilderness. I will create rivers in the dry wasteland.

The wild animals in the fields will thank me, the jackals and owls, too, for giving them water in the desert. Yes, I will make rivers in the dry wasteland so my chosen people can be refreshed.

I have made Israel for myself, and they will someday honor me before the whole world.

MUSIC ALIVE

IN THE LIGHT

Light is represented in many ways in musical compositions. Sometimes in music, light seems to stream ethereally from above. Sometimes in music, light is majestic in tone (for example, the creation of light in Haydn's The Creation). Siyahamba ("We Are Walking in the Light of God"), on the other hand, appears to attempt neither of these depictions of light. Stemming from South Africa, it is rather an energetic representation of the process of walking in the light. One might say loosely that it is potential energy—what light could do—turned into kinetic energy—what light does do—in empowering walking through showing the path. Another rendering of the title may suggest a more proactive view: "We Are Marching..." But whether walking or marching, light on the path is essential.
