NOTRE DAME'S MUSEUM OF BIODIVERSITY AND MORAL LEADERSHIP

The South Bend Tribune ran a fascinating cover story this week on the Museum of Biodiversity housed on the campus of Notre Dame University. Closed to the public, this climate-controlled museum features a priceless 150-year-old collection of plant specimens from around the globe. The entire herbarium collection is now numbered at 280,000 specimens. But the goal of the university's scientists is not simply to enlarge the specimen collection. They are looking for "type" specimens—"the exact specimens the original scientist used to catalog and describe the plant species" (SBT 5-29-13). Each collected "type" specimen is carefully photographed and digitally stored for posterity in a huge online database called

SONGS OF THE BORDER SACRIFICE

These prayers to the Creator were recited yearly by Chinese emperors for 4500 years until A.D. 1911.

“Long ago, in the beginning, there was great chaos, without form and dark. The five elements (planets) had not yet begun to revolve, nor the sun or moon to shine. In the midst there existed neither form nor sound. You, O Spiritual Sovereign first did divide the grosser parts from the purer. You made the heavens; You made the earth; You made man. All things with their reproducing power exist because of You. O Di, after You separated the heavens and the earth, Your creative work proceeded. You did produce O Spirit, the sun, the moon, and the five planets. Pure and beautiful was their light. The vault of heaven was spread out like a curtain . . . I, Your servant, reverently thank You while I worship, . . . O Di, calling you Sovereign.

You have promised, O Di, to hear us, for You regard us as a Father his children. . . . I thank You for accepting my fervent prayer. Honorable is Your great name. . . . When Di, the Lord, voiced the command, He called into existence heaven, earth, and man. He placed man and all things on the earth, and the heavens were spread out over them. People and things all enjoy your love, O Di. All living things are indebted to your favor for their existence, but who can understand where His blessing comes from. You alone, O Lord, are the true parent of all things.

What limit or what measure can there be while we celebrate His great name. Forever he establishes the high heaven and the solid earth. His government is everlasting. His unworthy servant, I bow my head. I lay it in the dust, bathed in his grace and glory. Your sovereign goodness is infinite. Like a potter, you have made all living things. . . . The sense of Your goodness is engraved on the heart of Your poor servant; so that my feelings cannot be fully expressed. With great kindness You bear with us, and, despite our faults, You grant us life and prosperity. All the ends of the earth look up to Him. All human beings, all things on the earth, rejoice together in the Great Name.”

Please pray:

- For the Chinese people, that God will help them to see that belief in the Creator God is not a “white missionary” belief, but was etched into their language and culture for over 4,000 years.
- For the many war-torn areas of the world.
- For those in Oklahoma suffering loss and pain.
- That our youth will find God and remain faithful to Him.

STUDENT AID/ THE BEST GIFT OF ALL

A big thank you for your support of the Student Aid fund this school year. Ruth Murdoch Elementary School and Andrews Academy held their graduation ceremonies recently and the students are gone from the halls. School is over for another year. The students learned many academic things and developed good friendships. This was all done in a Christian environment. Thanks to your generous giving, the Student Aid fund was able to help almost one hundred young people attend either RMES or AA during the 2012-2013 school year.

Our giving year runs from July 1 to June 30. The annual goal is $60,000 and we have a considerable distance to go to reach that goal. Please give to Student Aid on your tithe and offering envelope during the month of June. If we fall short of our goal we may need to cut the amount we can pay to those for whom we committed funds back last summer on faith we would get what we needed. Won't you please help us raise our goal for this school year? Scores of families are depending on this.

Here is a thank you letter addressed to you from a 2nd grader at Ruth Murdoch.

Dear Sponsor [Student Aid Fund donor]:

Thank you for your generous gift. It means a lot to me and my family. The time has been difficult for us, but thanks for your support it really helps. I won't forget your kindness. My mom told me that to attend RMES is my Christmas gift. That is the best gift that I ever received. I have a lot of fun at RMES. I am learning about God and I sing a lot of songs. I have a lot of friends. My teacher is very nice. Thank you for helping me. God bless you.

PRAY

That we will meet our June 30 goal.

FLAG CAMP / SUMMER 2013

Learning about God is fun. It is possible we have forgotten that we learn just as much about God through relationships (those are fun), experiencing nature (this is fun), and playing (who doesn't enjoy this) as we do in a worship service or Bible study. Amen! Learning about God is fun – and we will be taking time this summer to have a Fun Learning About God (FLAG) Camp.

I have been so impressed with the level of commitment and passion of the team leaders and counselors. Camp has been an event of spiritual growth for many kids - watching it happen is the best. As Camp director, Chris Davisson's goal is "to make Flag Camp the most fun and safest place possible to allow your children to come to know Jesus as their personal savior and friend." And he isn't alone, Camp staff member Amanda Moore, believes that young people meeting Jesus during the summer is the fulfillment of "every staff member's desire for all campers."

Our greatest desire is to provide a safe, fun, and wholesome environment for children grades K - 8 each summer. Camp begins Monday, June 3, and is held at the Pathfinder Building on Andrews University campus and runs daily from 8:30 AM – 4:00 PM, with Pre-care starting at 7:30 AM and After-care lasting until 5:30 PM. You may either complete a registration form ahead of time or wait until the first day your child attends camp, since there is open registration each day.

The application and camper handbook can be found at www.flag-camp.org or call 269.471.3133.

As always, there are some who have difficulty paying. We invite you to sponsor a child. If you want to help - mark "FLAG camp" on the tithe envelope.

AA / HISTORY COMES ALIVE!

You've got to admit that it's one thing to study about the Pilgrims landing on Plymouth Rock in 1620, but it's another thing to see Plymouth Rock and visit historical reenactments of that time. Suddenly history comes alive!

Each spring, History teacher David Sherman leads an educational tour to sites where students learn the history on location. This year the group of 39 students and 4 sponsors traveled to New England. The itinerary was packed with interesting stops. At Old Sturbridge Village, MA, one of the oldest and largest living history museums in the U.S., they saw how life was in New England from 1790-1840. They stopped at Breakers Mansion (the Vanderbilts' summer cottage), Touro Synagogue, Plymouth Rock, Plymouth Village, Old North Bridge, Minute Man Monument and many more sites.

Mr. Sherman's favorite site was the Touro Synagogue in New Port, Rhode Island. This was the first synagogue in the U.S. and it still serves a congregation. In 1790 George Washington visited the synagogue and assured the members that the U.S. would be a place of freedom of worship for all.

The group also saw some incredible natural sites. Whale watching in Boston Harbor proved to be exciting when a whale went under the boat they were in! And on Sabbath they visited beautiful Niagara Falls and enjoyed Sabbath School and church in a nearby park.

The richness of experiences at Andrews Academy is based on more than just the time students spend in the classroom. Educational tours are one of the many opportunities for young people to think deeply, live fully and become all that God has intended them to be. —Sue Rappette

Global Plants (on the database website JSTOR) that now has 1.9 million entries. We're not talking little snapshots, either. Each image, in fact, is 200 megabytes, which means each picture could be enlarged to cover a wall and still be clear. So while the museum is closed to the public, its treasure trove can be examined and admired by online visitors for years to come.

The Museum of Biodiversity collection has been expanded now to include animal fossils, vertebrates suspended in jars of formaldehyde and even a large collection of preserved insects. But I wonder—do you suppose we could find the fossil of a moral leader somewhere in that collection?

Moral leaders are becoming a rare breed on this terra firma, aren't they? You remember the "type"—that man, that woman, that young adult or teenager (or even child, for that matter) who was uncommonly known as someone who unflinchingly stood up for conviction. Never mind the numbers of those around them who found it inconvenient to stand up at all, let alone to buck the crowd and have to stand alone. Moral leaders—those individuals who in a committee or on a board or in a classroom or dorm room are unafraid to politely but firmly defend what they are convicted is the right moral course to pursue, irrespective of popular opinion. Moral leaders—are they but a fossil relic from the past anymore?

Nobody said moral leaders would ever be in the majority, but history has taught us that even just one of them can shift the tide of humanity and rewrite the narrative of history. Just one.

But imagine what more than just one moral leader could do—imagine a band of them on a campus like ours. I imagine God imagines just such a reality. In fact, it really is no imagination at all. He predicts it: “In the last days, God says, I will pour out my Spirit on all people. Your sons and daughters will prophesy, your young men will see visions, your old men will dream dreams. Even on my servants, both men and women, I will pour out my Spirit in those days, and they will prophesy” (Acts 2:17-18). A band of moral leaders—young and old, men and women “in the last days.”

For that reason this summer we in this congregation and on this campus are claiming God's promise in prayer—“I will do a new thing.” We have put off that prayer for too long. It is high time—for the sake of this university and the world into which God is sending it—for His “new thing” to become a reality on this campus. And so with 76 days until the new school year begins, we are praying for new moral leaders.

Would you be willing to join us in this prayer?

MUSIC ALIVE

HOW IS IT?

How is it that instrumental worship-service music gets a title like “Come, God, Creator, Holy Spirit” (today’s postlude)? How do such words connect with the music? Does the composer make them up? Often, a composer writes an instrumental arrangement of a hymn melody commonly sung with particular words. The first few of those sung words become the title of the instrumental piece. This resulting title can shape the listener’s experiencing of the music by directing thoughts toward particular scriptural topics. Many times those words even will give significant hints concerning the music’s expression. In today’s postlude, Bach’s setting of a hymn melody seems joyously to express images of the Spirit’s fire and vibrancy. The hymn’s melody sounds twice, first in the highest part, then in the lowest.

MEDIA VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Here at PMC we are blessed to be able to run a large-scale media ministry each and every week. This is possible in no small part to the army of dedicated volunteers who donate their time on a weekly basis. Electronic media is an important part of worship here at Pioneer. From hearing the speaker via the P.A. system, to seeing images on the screen, technology is at the heart of everything we do. Making this technology work requires a team of dedicated volunteers—15 each week.

Can you picture yourself ministering through technology? This summer, we are looking for new volunteers to join the media team. No experience is needed, but a passion for excellence in ministry is required. If you would like to consider being a camera operator, helping with the audio system, or creating Power Point contact:
