WELCOME!

The air is becoming crisp and the glorious colors of fall more vivid as our awesome God provides us with an inspiring seasonal transition. On this hallowed Day, He also offers us a spiritual transition, welcoming us to a vibrant season of worship here in His house. So, on this Sabbath of our mid-semester break here on the campus of Andrews University, let us come before our Maker with hearts that seek salvation. For “there is salvation in no one else. . . . There is no other name under heaven given among mortals by which we must be saved” (Acts 4:12). In praise of that name and in certainty of that truth, we have come to worship. Visitors are invited to a homecooked vegetarian meal in the Commons following second service.

“BLESSED ARE THE SCHOOLMAKERS”

They say the young Pakistani sixteen year old, Malala Yousafzai, has an inside track to the Nobel Peace Prize this year. We’ll know in a few days. If she wins this much heralded prize, she will become the youngest recipient in its illustrious history.

And why not? A year ago today Malala, an outspoken public advocate of the value and importance of education for young women (a notion radically opposed by the Taliban forces operating inside Pakistan), was riding home from school in the back of a small pick-up that doubled as a “school bus” for children in her town. A masked man stopped the truck, while an accomplice singled Malala out and shot her in the head.

She should have and would have died were it not for the quick intervention of Pakistani doctors who performed emergency surgery

"I WILL DO A NEW THING"

BETRAYED?

Have you ever felt betrayed? Maybe a special secret was shared in confidence, but later someone else came up and asked you about this secret. Maybe your parent or your child really let you down when they made a promise. Maybe the ultimate covenant between a man and a woman was broken.

When I was a young teenager, like all of that age I was looking for acceptance from those around me. Some of these people had "befriended" me and I thought they really liked me. One Sabbath afternoon, on a fall academy campout to a mountain cabin, everyone was inside sitting around the small fireplace because of the cold and drizzly rain outside. One of the older boys whom I didn't know very well started to pick on me verbally and calling me names. Then the so-called "friends" chimed in. After a while I left, went outside and poured out my heart to God. After about 30-40 minutes I went back in, resolved to face anything they might say. Two things happened. As the verbal abuse began again, an older student I didn't even know told the others to stop, which they did. Then as I was sitting in an old couch, I felt around the cushions and found quite a few quarters, nickels, dimes, and pennies. I didn't say anything, but as the afternoon progressed, I moved to other couches and chairs, collecting several dollars in change.

Lessons learned:

- God sometimes uses very small things to let us know that He has heard.
- Always stand up for those being mistreated. It could just as easily be you!
- When you are betrayed, think about who God prays to when He is betrayed. What would give Him comfort in His betrayal? Is it the knowledge that someday you will be with Him to wipe the tears from His eyes?

—Dennis Hollingsead

"No temptation has come your way that is too hard for flesh and blood to bear. But God can be trusted not to allow you to suffer any temptation beyond your powers of endurance. He will see to it that every temptation has a way out, so that it will never be impossible for you to bear it."

GROW GROUPS / SCRAPBOOKING YOUR FAITH

This season's GROW Groups come in many flavors—some intensely deep and rich, others light and fresh. All of them offer people with similar interests the opportunity to meet once a week and focus on a subject or activity that they find intriguing.

Sherrie Davis, leader of the GROW Group "Faithbooking," has enjoyed scrapbooking for eleven years. "Faithbooking is a unique form of scrapbooking," says Sherrie. "Simply put, Faithbooking is scrapbooking your walk with God."

Throughout the Bible, we are often commanded to "remember the praiseworthy deeds of the Lord" (Psalm 78:4) and to "teach them to our children" (Deuteronomy 4:9). Faithbooking is a creative way to do this—to preserve memories, leave a legacy, and celebrate milestones. Some participants choose to journal in their faithbooks, others include personal testimonies and Scriptures that are meaningful to them and their families. Combined with photos and embellishments, these books will be incredible, permanent reminders of each one's journey of faith.

"Faithbooking is an opportunity for me to use my creativity and strengthen my spiritual life while reaching out, supporting and sharing with others," one of the group members explained. "My book contains favorite songs, Bible verses and promises that have helped me throughout my life."

"Faithbooking meets on Tuesdays through November 19th," states Sherrie. "If you haven't joined us, there is still opportunity to scrapbook at PMC. Women's Ministries sponsors free crops throughout the year. The next crops are Sunday, October 13, from 10 AM to 5 PM, and Sunday, November 17, from 1 to 5PM." For more information, call or email Sherrie. —Sue Rappette

MASTER PLAN OF EVANGELISM

HEALTH MINISTRIES / MEET THE NEW LEADER

My name is Tatiyana Stankovic, but most of my friends know me as Tanya. I was born and raised in the suburbs of Chicago and decided to stay in the Michiana area after I graduated from the Department of Nursing right here at Andrews University. While studying I also met my husband, Alex, and upon graduating got married. After working as a registered nurse for a few years I obtained a Master's in Nursing from Valparaiso University and practiced as a Family Nurse Practitioner in the South Bend area. God has blessed me with two beautiful girls, Madelyn, 8, and Ella, 5, who are so happy to be Ruth Murdoch students.

When I saw that the church was looking for a new health ministry team I knew right away that I wanted to be a part of it. We've only had one chance to meet so far, but the best part is that we all share the same goal for this coming year: reaching out to the students on campus and stepping out beyond our University gates and into our community. Please pray that God blesses this ministry as we share the health message with those in and around our campus.

CHRISTIAN EDUCATION

AA / SA CAMPOUT

Sixty-five Andrews Academy students recently participated in the annual Student Association campout at beautiful Muskegon State Park. The entire weekend was a spiritually focused and fun time to start off the school year, to get to know each other and our God more.

Jordanne Howell-Walton, SA Pastor, coordinated the spiritual program for the weekend. She invited Mrs. Andrea Jakobsons, AA's new Bible teacher, to lead out in vespers, Sabbath School and church. These services were held at the beach or by the campfire at the camp site.

Saturday afternoon the group canoed down a small river for a pleasant Sabbath afternoon canoe "hike." They spied snakes, turtles, sandpipers and ducks along the way.

The much anticipated event—Capture the Flag—occurred Saturday night. Students gathered on the shores of Lake Michigan and divided into teams. The goal was to run the length of the beach and capture the flag without getting caught. If they were caught by an opposing team, they would be put in "jail." Imagine a lot of running and laughing in the dark and you get the picture!

The teens appreciated all the planning that went into the busy weekend. "I had so much fun at SA campout! Getting 'lost' canoeing, seeing shooting stars, Mrs. Jakobson's amazing stories, making new friends. Life is good," comments a Sophomore.

From a Junior, "I had a super awesome weekend on SA campout! Made lots of memories and it ended way too soon! I also saw the first shooting star in my life on the beach."

on Malala. Her condition still grave, the surgeons learned that a British physician, Fiona Reynolds, happened to be in the country that day. As it turns out, Dr. Reynolds is an intensive care specialist with the Birmingham Children’s Hospital—and she recommended that Malala be flown overseas for specialized treatment. The rest is history.

Today, thoroughly healed and adamantly undeterred by Taliban extremism, Malala continues—now with an international platform—to champion the right of girls and young women to full education and schooling, in Pakistan, in every village on earth.

From the beginning of time our Creator Himself has championed the value and right of education for all His Earth children. “Gather the people to Me, and I will let them hear My words, that they may learn to fear Me all the days they live on the earth, and that they may teach their children” (Deuteronomy 4:10).

And His vision is no small one: “God’s purpose for the children growing up beside our hearths is wider, deeper, higher, than our restricted vision has comprehended. From the humblest lot those whom He has seen faithful have in time past been called to witness for Him in the world’s highest places. And many a [child] of today, growing up as did Daniel in his Judean home, studying God’s word and His works, and learning the lessons of faithful service, will yet stand in legislative assemblies, in halls of justice, or in royal courts, as a witness for the King of kings. . . . Millions upon millions have never so much as heard of God or of His love revealed in Christ. It is their right to receive this knowledge. They have an equal claim with us in the Saviour’s mercy. And it rests with us who have received the knowledge, with our children to whom we may impart it, to answer their cry. To every household and every school, to every parent, teacher, and child upon whom has shone the light of the gospel, comes at this crisis the question put to Esther the queen at that momentous crisis in Israel’s history, ‘Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this?’ Esther 4:14” (Education 262, 263).

The vision of the divine Teacher to teach the children to reach the world—what could be more radical than that? Malala is on the right path. Shouldn’t those upon whom the light of God has shined so brightly be on that same path, too?

CALL TO WORSHIP

We sing of your steadfast love, O Lord, forever;

With our mouths we proclaim your faithfulness to all generations.

Let the heavens praise your wonders, O Lord, for you are our glory and our strength.

For your steadfast love was established forever, and your faithfulness is firm for all generations.

Let us worship the name of the Lord.

THE WORD

EPHESIANS 2:4-9 NIV

But because of his great love for us, God, who is rich in mercy, made us alive with Christ even when we were dead in transgressions—it is by grace you have been saved.

And God raised us up with Christ and seated us with him in the heavenly realms in Christ Jesus, in order that in the coming ages he might show the incomparable riches of his grace, expressed in his kindness to us in Christ Jesus.

For it is by grace you have been saved, through faith—and this is not from yourselves, it is the gift of God—not by works, so that no one can boast.

ON VACATION

On this Fall Break weekend, worship at PMC connects with stirring words written on another vacation. Harry Emerson Fosdick (1878-1969) has been called “one of America’s great preachers.” He authored the words of hymn 607, “God of Grace and God of Glory,” while vacationing at Boothbay Harbor, Maine. A World War I chaplain and pastor who served more than one denomination, Fosdick became pastor of the massive Riverside Church in New York City, an impressive structure supported by funding from John D. Rockefeller, Jr. This hymn text was used in the first service and at the dedication of this church. Fosdick said, of the church, “We must justify the possession of that magnificent equipment by the service that comes out of it.”
