HOW TO JOIN THE NEW LEGION—
Clothed, in Your Right Mind and Sent

PREPARE YOUR HEART

On the cusp of a new school year, it is easy to think about all the things that need to be done before we are ready. Ready or not, here it comes. There are supplies needed and registration to be completed. There are bulletin boards to decorate and desks to be straightened. There are new names to learn and lessons to be written. There are backpacks to be filled and lunches to be packed.

This morning we welcome you to Pioneer to worship with us. We welcome you this Sabbath to step out of the commotion of preparation and enter into worship. Luke 2:52 reads, "And Jesus increased in wisdom and in stature and in favor with God and man." So, as the new school year begins, let us not only prepare for new classes and students, but let us prepare our hearts as we worship together. -Ben Martin

How to "TRUMP" Your New Year

BY DWIGHT K. NELSON

The meteoric rise of Donald Trump's presidential campaign has flummoxed the talking heads of the news media. How could this brash entrepreneurial business tycoon be attracting such "If the election were held today I'd vote for him" kind of support? After all, politics in America isn't a television reality show . . . is it?

But for new students at Andrews University, perhaps there are a few lessons tucked away in Trump's quest for the Whitehouse, lessons for your own pursuit of that "impossible dream":

❶ Sometimes you have to plow ahead no matter what the critics are saying. Thank God for our families who are our biggest cheerleaders in the dreams we pursue. And if you're blessed to have a praying parent, you'll ride on the updraft of those prayers this new year. But you may be your own worst critic. "What am I doing taking on this huge academic challenge? Look at my grades in high school! Look at the financial investment we're making! How can I possibly succeed with so unlikely a dream?" When those cloudy thoughts begin to take over, here's a promise to infuse new courage into your worried heart: "Be strong and courageous. Do not be afraid; do not be discouraged, for the LORD your God will be with you wherever you go" (Joshua 1:9). Every good dream is birthed by God—which means He's the One leading you to take on this academic challenge. "I will be with you wherever this new year twists and turns." With a traveling Companion and Friend like that, there's no critic who can turn you around!

2 Sometimes you have to raise your voice to be heard above the din. Say what you want about Donald Trump, he's learned to keep shouting when they're shouting him down. Nothing will be more faith-inspiring and courage-building than raising your own voice in prayer above the din of campus life. Jesus told a story once about a little widow who was being bullied out of her inheritance. She triumphed because she kept raising her voice above her detractors, until the judge granted her petition. Jesus' point? "You should always pray and not give up—for God will take care of those who cry out night and day to Him" (see Luke 18:1, 7). So begin every day with 15 quiet minutes in conversation with Him—and the God who watches over the sparrows will take care of you (see Matthew 10:31).

3 Sometimes you have to talk your faith before you can prove your faith. The news media made it clear from the start nobody would ever take Donald Trump seriously.

But Donald Trump does. And the more he talks up that faith (in himself), the more he's been able to draw believers in him to his cause. I'm not suggesting you should go around campus talking up faith in yourself (you're not a politician—for which you can be grateful). But you are a friend of the Most High God, and talking up your faith and trust in His ability to guide you to your dreams will not only make believers out of others—it'll make a believer out of you. John Wesley—a very short man with a very great faith—early in life learned the principle: "You must talk faith until you have faith." Politicians call it, "Fake it until you make it." But as a friend of Jesus, you don't have to fake a thing. Simply talk up your faith in the One "who loved me and gave Himself for me" (Galatians 2:20), and He'll use you to make a believer out of you and the others, too.

PERHAPS THERE ARE A FEW LESSONS TUCKED AWAY IN TRUMP'S QUEST FOR THE WHITEHOUSE, LESSONS FOR YOUR OWN PURSUIT OF THAT "IMPOSSIBLE DREAM"

---

The point: You can trump your new year. "I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me" (Philippians 4:13). As Taylor Bunch once put it, "You don't know the resources of God until you've tried the impossible." So go for it! We're cheering you on.

You can follow Pastor Dwight's blog at www.pmchurch.tv/blog.

ALWAYS LOOK AHEAD

*Yet another said, "I will follow you, Lord, but let me first say farewell to those at my home." Jesus said to him, "No one who puts his hand to the plow and looks back is fit for the kingdom of God."
(Luke 9:61-62 ESV)*

BY REBECCA COLEMAN

Adapted from Daily Devotions

One of the greatest challenges for every Christian is to follow Jesus, and to pursue His purpose for our lives without looking back. Imagine trying to drive a car on the highway while looking in the rearview mirror; it would be challenging for you to stay in your lane and avoid a collision. Jesus' illustration of plowing a field would have made perfect sense to His listeners living in an agricultural context. If a farmer did not focus on what is ahead but was distracted by what was behind or on the periphery, it would be impossible to plow in a straight line. The ox and plow would certainly veer off course.

IMAGINE TRYING TO DRIVE A CAR ON THE HIGHWAY WHILE LOOKING IN THE REARVIEW MIRROR...

---

Both positive and negative aspects of our lives have the potential to become distractions:

- Past successes
- Past failures
- Internal insecurities

- External circumstances
- Comfort & security
- Relationships
- The previous school year

Whether you are a teacher or a student, it might be hard not to focus on last year's failures; however, we have to remember that those moments do not define us! It's also interesting that the man who wants to follow Jesus can be distracted by the very things that Jesus blessed him with: his home and family. Jesus is letting us know that even something that's a huge blessing in our lives can become a distraction if it becomes more important than pursuing Jesus and His purpose. As we continue to seek Jesus, we must constantly be aware of the potential distractions in our rearview mirror of life. There can often be a tendency to look back and remember the good, instead of the great in front of you with Jesus. ■

MUSIC ALIVE

AGE 25 AND YOUNGER

Johan Kahl lived only a few months into his twenty-fifth year. He was born in 1721 on an island off the coast of Sweden. Kahl advocated Pietism, a movement that emphasized personal religious experience. According to one commentary, certain forerunners had been "advocating a revival of practical and devout Christianity." By Kahl's time, Pietism was strongly rooted. He would not live to see its full flowering into the second half of the 1700s, as his life was swallowed up as he drowned in 1746 at age 25. But in his short lifetime he had written a significant number of hymns (about 50 were published in one book). His text "Arise, My Soul, Arise!" (see hymn no. 38) is integrated with the melody of today's Opening Voluntary of the same title. ■

This ministry shares handmade articles (e.g., shawls, scarves, lap robes, small quilts, bookmarks) with people who have experienced a major loss or are experiencing significant health challenges. Meetings are spent deciding who will deliver something to whom, updating the list of needs and deliveries, and fellowshiping together. Most of us accomplish some knitting or crocheting at meetings, but most creation of items takes place between meetings. We always welcome new members, whether they create, deliver, or both. For more information, contact Alice Williams (alicew@andrews.edu; 471.3373) or Lyn MacCarty (208.3377 or 471.9060).

GLOW MINISTRIES

BY TABITHA UMALI

This fall we will be starting the Glow ministry here at PMC and we are looking for Glow leaders. Glow is an easy, effective ministry that anyone can do. Yes, anyone! Glow ministry encompasses small, pick-me-up tracts that deal with the felt-needs of people, such as peace, where is God in pain, health, the Law, the Sabbath, and more.

You can give these small tracts to the cashier as you check out in the store, or leave it with your tip and receipt at restaurants. If you are a quiet and shy person, this ministry is great for you; it doesn't require you to talk to anyone!

Amazing things have happened with these small tracts. A Burger King employee was given a Glow tract at the drive-through, read it and felt that it spoke to her brokenness. She requested Bible studies through the number on the back, and was baptized a few months following.

A man found a tract on the Sabbath in his home from a canvasser whom he turned away; he read it and felt convicted. He called and was baptized shortly after at his local church. Glow is about giving light to our world. We are looking for an Andrews student and PMC church member leader. If you are interested in becoming a leader for this ministry or would like more information on this position, please contact me. ■
