NUCLEAR FISHIN'

WHALE OF A FISH STORY

WELCOME

to Pioneers

"Stand up and praise the LORD your God, who is from everlasting to everlasting. Blessed be your glorious name, and may it be exalted above all blessing and praise. You alone are the LORD. You made the heavens, even the highest heavens, and all their starry host, the earth and all that is on it, the seas and all that is in them. You give life to everything, and the multitudes of heaven worship you" (Nehemiah 9:5-6).

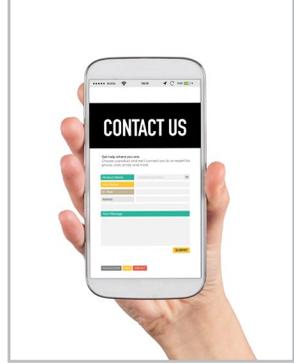

What a grand and glorious privilege to gather together to stand up and praise the Lord. God is everything to us. We praise Him for His marvelous unchanging love He has for you and me. Welcome, everyone, to our worship today. May we all be richly blest.

WHERE'S A FATHER WHEN YOU NEED HIM?

BY DWIGHT K. NELSON

I wish my father were here—not just because it's Father's Day and I become particularly sentimental when conversations turn to the legacy of dads and the lasting imprint of their love on the lives of their children. (I know very well not all grown up children are blessed with such happy memories of their father—which only deepens my gratitude for having the dad that I did.)

But I wish my father were here because of the sage perspective he used to offer. Call it old-fashioned wisdom. I don't suppose he was a genius, but he had a savvy way of reading life and people and events that made sense to me. And given all the confusion that rooms-full of mainly fathers are creating these days in our nation's political capital, I wonder how my dad would sort through what is beginning to feel like unmitigated chaos.

Perhaps he would quietly demur, were I to ask him for his perspectives on our non-stop litany of conflicting, competing headlines these days. Or maybe he would simply advise, "You're better off, Son, not expending your time and energies on what will only become more complex and confusing as time races on." Would his advice be the same about the church today? As an administrator, he knew and loved it deeply.

But whatever the counsel, I grew up believing, like countless other little boys, there was no greater somebody or anybody on earth than my own father! In fact I remember the time I was in a circle of young missionary boys and we were bragging about our dads, when mine happened to overhear our boyish chatter. "I was the toughest kid in my neighborhood," my dad interrupted. "Every time the boys saw me coming, they all started running." He paused, and I beamed with pride in my "tough guy" father. "But," he went on, "they could never catch me!" As the other boys in the circle laughed with him, it took me a split second to realize he had just told the joke on himself—that he was no tough guy at all, but just another kid the bullies would chase. Oh well—he was still my hero.

And I still wish he were here. He'd be 90 years old this Father's Day. But he died fifteen years ago, far too young for any father to leave. And he died encapsulated in the lockbox of dementia that meant we couldn't say good-bye that last day I hugged and kissed him. I remember sitting out on the terrace of his nursing home, each of us with a cup of ice cream and those too-small wooden spoons stuck to the bottom of the cup. A small plane droned overhead, and Dad, a chaplain with the Civil Air Patrol and a private pilot in his day, instinctively looked up to track the noise in the blue California heavens. His eyesight undimmed, he quickly spotted the plane. And without comment or even expression, he followed it. Not a word. Just his ice cream and me beside him that last memory together.

“As a father has compassion on his children, so the Lord has compassion on those who fear Him; for He knows how we are formed, He remembers that we are dust” (Psalm 103:13-14). Frail feet of clay and bodies of dust are we all, dads, children and moms, too. But on this Father’s Day, I thank God for being immeasurably greater than even the most idealized image of “Father” we’ve secretly carried inside of us all these years.

“Our Father in heaven.” ■

FLAG CAMP

SUMMER 2017

BY BETH HELM

This summer, I am again honored to lead one of our church's most creative and life-changing ministries, FLAG Camp. My view of FLAG camp has evolved over the years as I have grown from a 16-year-old counselor to a mother of two (three this fall). When I first began working at camp, I viewed it as a fun way for kids to spend their summers outdoors, playing with friends. Over the years, I began to better appreciate the lasting impact camp has on kids who attend. Lifelong friendships are developed at camp, and many decisions are made by campers to dedicate their lives to God.

As any parent knows, it can be tough to find affordable, quality childcare in the summer. FLAG Camp has done its best to keep tuition affordable, while still providing a high quality, full-day program. But camp is so much more than affordable childcare. As a parent, I appreciate more than ever the immense blessing it is to form relationships with godly young people for my children to look up to. I want to surround my children with positive role models who will guide them as I would. I have seen firsthand the energy and passion of our counselors, and I desperately want my children to emulate these young people who have such a love for life and for God. Also, I know there will come a time when my own children may not wish to come to me first with their concerns or questions. I want to ensure they have mentors they can go to for counsel; mentors I trust, who love God deeply and want the best for my children.

The vast majority of our counselors this summer initially attended FLAG Camp as children. One after another has told me they want to work at camp because of the positive impact the counselors had on their lives, and that they want to make a difference in the lives of their campers this summer. I am so incredibly proud of our team this summer! I watched them pull together last summer and return this year with innovative ideas and renewed energy. I am confident this will be one of our strongest summers yet.

As you make summer plans, I encourage you to consider FLAG Camp for your children grades K-8. Whether your children attend only a few days throughout the summer, a week, or all eight weeks of our program, I am sure it will be a positive experience with memories to last a lifetime.

If you have questions about FLAG Camp, contact the PMC office or the director, Beth Helm (helme@andrews.edu or 269.470.0431). ■

Then some of the Pharisees and teachers of the law said to him, "Teacher, we want to see a sign from you."

He answered, "A wicked and adulterous generation asks for a sign!

But none will be given it except the sign of the prophet Jonah.

For as Jonah was three days and three nights in the belly of a huge fish, so the Son of Man will be three days and three nights in the heart of the earth.

The men of Nineveh will stand up at the judgment with this generation and condemn it; for they repented at the preaching of Jonah, and now something greater than Jonah is here."

LOOK UP!

Resolute prophet, shrinking prophet—Elijah experienced a kaleidoscopic swirl of events as he challenged Baal's prophets, then soon fled for his life. In Felix Mendelssohn's oratorio Elijah, the composer has the chorus intoning "Woe to him!" and breathing death threats. Then Elijah sings, "It is enough, O Lord, now take away my life, for I am no better than my fathers!" The answer comes as if from angels, in the trio "Lift Thine Eyes." Today's introit, this trio from Elijah, invites the listener to contemplate God's answer to humankind's multitude of trials, in cities and in other hotspots of strife and suffering: "Lift your eyes . . . to the mountains . . . Your help comes from the Lord, . . ." Today's closing music adopts for its title the first words of a hymn, "Love Divine," commonly sung to its melody. ■

PMC OPERATING BUDGET

"And remember the words of the Lord Jesus, that He said, 'It is more blessed to give than to receive'" (Acts 20:35). I am sure you are aware that giving is a form of worship where we show recognition that all we are and all we have belong to God. The Lord has promised a blessing to all who participate in this aspect of worship. Today's offering is for church budget; when we give for that cause we keep our local congregation needs supplied. Every time we come to church and see tangible evidence of the use of this offering our hearts should rejoice.

Today we mourn with Jared and Justina Clayburn on the death of their father, Jim Clayburn, who died on June 2. With the Clayburn family we look forward to the resurrection morning. "Even so, come Lord Jesus."

50th Wedding Anniversary

LaVern and Linda Rice, longtime members of PMC, will be celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on June 18. They were married on June 18, 1967, in Union Springs, New York. Eight and a half years ago they relocated to Enterprise, Oregon. Well wishes can be sent to: 307 Wagner St., Enterprise, Oregon, 97828.

Honduras Mission Trip Report

The PMC Youth Missions team has returned from their 3-week mission trip to Honduras. Their unique approach was to plant congregations in 7 locations and assist 2 more churches in their growth. Students visited in homes, conducted evangelistic meetings in 9 locations, and held a week of prayer in 3 different schools. Local Bible workers partnered in the church planting. The process will continue for 4 more months but already more than 50 baptisms have taken place and there are many Bible studies and interests. For more info contact Erhard Gallos or Glenn Russell (glenn@andrews.edu). We thank you for your prayers and support!

Summer Pathfinder Honors

Starting June 13 through August 10, the Evergreen club will teach various honors in preparation for the 2019 International Pathfinder Camporee. These include: Pinewood Derby, Rocks, Spiders, Model Rocketry, Postcards, Drawing, Blacksmithing, Physical Fitness, and Pizza Making. For more information email evergreenpathfinders@gmail.com.

New Member Orientation

JULY 1 • 10:30AM
LOCATION TBA

If you have recently transferred your church membership, been baptized, joined by Profession of Faith, or enrolled at Andrews University, you are invited to attend the Pioneer new member orientation. We want to meet you, share the mission and vision of Pioneer with you, as we help you become better acquainted with your new church family. Register at www.pmchurch.org/new-member or call Pastor Sabine Vatel or Janna Quetz at 269.471.3133.

Wedding Anniversaries

To be happily married for 50 years or more is an awesome achievement! Congratulations! How about getting together for a celebration dinner and an opportunity to praise God for your life together. Call 471.4308 or email dudleym@andrews.edu if you are interested.
